The House of Islam Kenneth Cragg,1975 The House of Islam Ed Husain,2018-05-17 A powerful corrective Guardian This should be compulsory reading Peter Frankopan author of The Silk Roads For anyone interested in the future of Islam both in Britain and the Islamic world this is an important book The Times The gulf between Islam and the West is widening A faith rich with strong values and traditions observed by nearly two billion people is seen by the West as something to be feared rather than understood Sensational headlines and hard line policies spark enmity while ignoring the feelings narratives and perceptions that preoccupy Muslims today The House of Islam seeks to provide entry to the minds and hearts of Muslims the world over It introduces us to the kindness of Mohammed the beauty of Islamic art and the permeation of the divine in public spaces and the tension between mysticism and literalism that still threatens the religion Ed Husain expertly and compassionately guides us through the nuances of Islam and its people contending that the Muslim world need not be a stranger to the West nor its enemy but a peaceable ally

A Wind in the House of Islam David Garrison,2014 A Wind in the House of Islam investigates the phenomenon of millions of Muslims who are turning to faith in Jesus Christ today Over the course of Islamic history tens of millions of Christians were absorbed into the House of Islam But what about the opposite Have there ever been movements of Muslim communities who voluntarily turned to Jesus Christ and were baptized The first 13 centuries of Islam s history saw only three movements numbering at least a thousand Muslims turning to Christianity apart from those that were coerced through wars Crusades and Inquisitions Today the story is changing Over the past two decades there have been 69 additional movements of Muslims to Christ scattered across the Muslim world from West Africa to Indonesia In an unprecedented global survey Dr David Garrison Ph D University of Chicago traveled a quarter million miles throughout the House of Islam to find out why and how this is happening today His research took him into every corner of the Muslim world where he gathered more than a thousand interviews of Muslim background followers of Jesus Christ His core question What did God use to bring you to faith in Jesus Christ A Wind in the House of Islam reveals their stories and David Garrison s journey through all nine Rooms in the House of Islam where he discovered that the Wind of God s Spirit is blowing through every one of them A Wind in the House of Islam is a 328 page book written in an engaging style but also includes a glossary of Islamic terms a bibliography for further reading endnotes 11 maps with data tables of Muslim populations 46 photographs and excerpts from more than a thousand interviews Each of the book s 15 chapters conclude with discussion questions to facilitate small group dialogue and discovery Learn more about the book at www.WindintheHouse.org

Architecture and Art II G Passerini, 2018-07-18 Papers presented at the 2nd International Conference on Islamic Heritage Architecture and Art are contained in this volume. The conference attracted important research highlighting the significance of Islamic heritage architecture and art to the world and its influence across different regions. The papers deal with the design of many types of buildings in Islamic countries including not only the better known public buildings like mosques, mausolea, citadels and forts but also houses and gardens, engineering works such as bridges and dams, irrigation systems and many others which have also had a profound impact on society. Traditional architecture and urban environment in most Islamic countries is now being eroded by overemphasis on a global type of architecture and city planning. As a consequence many regions are losing their identity. The included studies review these developments in the light of what classical Islamic urban design and architecture has to offer modern society. Research contained in this book provides an analysis of the materials employed and the types of structural elements used particularly those unique to Islamic architecture. Associated topics covered include music, textiles and ceramics which are essential parts of the architectural fabric. Also looked at are construction materials including not only stone and brick but also more perishable materials like adobe, wood and reeds. The preservation of heritage features also requires the development of appropriate conservation techniques in response to the different materials used and the ways structural forms work including under extreme conditions such as earthquakes. Academics, researchers, practitioners and government employees actively involved in the topic of Islamic heritage architecture and art will find this publication of interest.

iMuslims Gary R. Bunt, 2009-04-30 Exploring the increasing impact of the Internet on Muslims around the world this book sheds new light on the nature of contemporary Islamic discourse, identity and community. The Internet has profoundly shaped how both Muslims and non-Muslims perceive Islam and how Islamic societies and networks are evolving and shifting in the twenty-first century says Gary Bunt. While Islamic society has deep historical patterns of global exchange, the Internet has transformed how many Muslims practice the duties and rituals of Islam. A place of religious instruction may exist solely in the virtual world for example or a community may gather only online. Drawing on more than a decade of online research Bunt shows how social networking sites, blogs and other cyber Islamic environments have exposed Muslims to new influences outside the traditional spheres of Islamic knowledge and authority. Furthermore the Internet has dramatically influenced forms of Islamic activism and radicalization including jihad-oriented campaigns by networks such as al Qaeda. By surveying the broad spectrum of approaches used to present dimensions of Islamic social, spiritual and political life on the Internet iMuslims encourages diverse understandings of online Islam and of Islam generally.
