The Human Predicament The Secular Ideologies:

The Human Condition John Kekes, 2010-08-05 The Human Condition is a response to the growing disenchantment in the Western world with contemporary life John Kekes provides rationally justified answers to questions about the meaning of life the basis of morality the contingencies of human lives the prevalence of evil the nature and extent of human responsibility and the sources of values we prize He offers a realistic view of the human condition that rejects both facile optimism and gloomy pessimism acknowledges that we are vulnerable to contingencies we cannot fully control defends a humanistic understanding of our condition recognizes that the values worth pursuing are plural often conflicting and that there are many reasonable conceptions of well being Kekes emphasizes the importance of facing the fact that man's inhumanity to man is widespread He rejects as simple minded both the view that human nature is basically good and that it is basically bad and argues that our well being depends on coping with the complex truth that human nature is basically complicated Finally Kekes argues that the scheme of things is indifferent to our fortunes and that we can rely only on our own resources to make what we can of our lives

The Human Predicament Boris Aldanov, 1988 The Human Condition Joe M. KAPOLYO, 2013-05-14 Human beings are complex For all our contemporary knowledge and ability however wonderful and widely available people around the world face a crisis of human identity that calls into question the meaning of existence and the basis of moral behaviour Responding to these challenges Joe KAPOLYO recognizes both the authority of the Bible which teaches that people are created in the image of God but also corrupted by rebellion and sin and the relevance of distinctly African perspectives on what it means to be human Although he reads these perspectives critically they lead him to reaffirm the biblical vision of redeemed human life in community in Christ This vision offers a solution to the crisis of identity experienced by people who have forgotten who they are and whose they are The Human Predicament: Theory of religion Boris Aldanov, 1988 An Evangelical Reading of Theologia Crucis in the Indian Context Amritraj Joshua

Paul, 2025-11-27 Amidst the global resurgence of the theologia crucis Theology of the cross both in academic circles and in the world of pastoral practical ministry this book explores the subject from the Indian context particularly from an evangelical perspective Journal of Dharma, 1991 The Ideology of Religious Studies Timothy Fitzgerald, 2003-10-16 In recent years there has been an intensifying debate within the religious studies community about the validity of religion as an analytical category In this book Fitzgerald sides with those who argue that the concept of religion itself should be abandoned On the basis of his own research in India and Japan and through a detailed analysis of the use of religion in a wide range of scholarly texts the author maintains that the comparative study of religion is really a form of liberal ecumenical theology By pretending to be a science religion significantly distorts socio cultural analysis He suggests however that religious studies can be re represented in a way which opens up new and productive theoretical connections with anthropology and cultural and literary studies International Affairs, 1989 The American Absurd Robert A. Hipkiss, 1984 Social

Action Book Review Supplement ,1989 Elenchus of Biblica ,1993 Current Research on Peace and Violence ,1989

Dostoevski and the Human Condition After a Century Alexej Ugrinsky, Frank S. Lambasa, Valija K.

Ozolins, 1986-10-21 Among nineteenth century novelists there is probably none who speaks so directly to the modern reader as Fedor Dostoevski. His visions of alienation and terror have not lost their power to shake our complacency even in this present age hardened as it is to violence and social decay. In this stimulating collection of essays a distinguished group of specialists in comparative literature and the social sciences explores the themes and problems with which Dostoevski struggled as both a writer and as a man and assesses their continuing relevance to the modern world. Encompassing a wide range of topics and perspectives this collection enriches our knowledge and appreciation of a writer whose prophetic visions of alienation and explorations of the dark side of the human psyche continue to fascinate readers and students of the human condition. Vedic Religious Tradition M. G. Chitkara, 2004 East and West Series ,1988 Largely composed of excerpts from the writings of T. L. Vaswani Economic and Political Weekly ,1991 The Muslim World Book Review ,2007

The Teilhard Review ,1989

Action Theory and the Human Condition Talcott Parsons, 1978 The Ideology of Max Weber E. B. F. Midgley, 1983 This book offers a critical evaluation of Weber's ideology of value choice. The author establishes Weber's ideology and then considers it in light of his sociological methodology. He also weighs the critical assessments of Weber made by Vogelin, Strauss, Aron, Gouldner, Rex, and Mommsen and examines Weber's misperceptions concerning natural law and moral and political philosophy.
