The Human Situation A Philosophical Anthropology:

The Human Situation Gerd Haeffner,1989 Since the beginning of conscious thought the human animal has questioned the meaning of its existence Although qualified in numerous ways by time and circumstance the question has remained In modern times it has assumed an unusual urgency due to the disintegration of self understanding caused in part by the Industrial Revolution and the destruction and degradation of this century s wars We ask again What is the nature of human life What qualifies as a meaningful life and How shall we come to understand ourselves in the future Using the resources of anthropology biological research ad philosophy to plumb the essence of humanity The Human Situation renews this quest for understanding Gerh Haeffner leads the reader through an examination of the different levels of human consciousness beginning with the techniques of biology and the human sciences Through this approach the reader is progressively made aware of the central question of What is it to be human and is led to an understanding of the unity of human life the central realities of conscience and freedom and finally the question of the meaning of life Other considerations include the basic dimensions of human existence the mental element of the act and the unity of human life and its meaning This work is an excellent general introduction to philosophical anthropology for students in a variety of disciplines with emphasis on developing issues and problems with a phenomenological method rather than presenting its material within a formal historical framework Though dealing with concepts that are challenging and demanding the writing is never technical and is appropriate for undergraduates

European Dispute over the Concept of Man Michał Gierycz,2021-01-11 The book represents original research in a field of study rarely pursued while analysing the intellectual dimensions of disputes over ethically sensitive issues that occur in European Union politics These disputes are generally analysed at ideological ethical economic and interstate levels However these references do not suffice in understanding the issue which is related to a divergent perception of the essence of humanity and thus the subject matter of anthropology The main research objective of the monograph is therefore to reconstruct the sources and the specific European Union way of thinking about the human being Methodologically the book expands the understanding of political anthropology within political science and presents a range of suitable instruments for pursuing anthropological research At the theoretical level it proposes an anthropological typology of the main currents of European political thought and reveals their prominence for the anthropological orientation of the EU s axiology Empirically it provides an analysis of the anthropological features of European Union institutions and policies in addition to discussing the relation between the axiological and anthropological positions of the main political and national groups within the EU

One Hundred Twentieth-Century Philosophers Stuart Brown,Diane Collinson,Dr Robert Wilkinson,Robert Wilkinson,2008-02-20 One Hundred Twentieth Century Philosophers offers biographical information and critical analysis of the life work and impact of some of the most significant figures in philosophy this century Taken from the acclaimed Biographical Dictionary of Twentieth Century Philosophers the 100 entries are alphabetically organised from Adorno to Zhang Binglin and cover individuals from both continental and analytic philosophy. The entries have an identical four part structure making it easy to compare and contrast information comprising biographical details a bibliography of major works a listing of relevant secondary and critical literature an appraisal of the philosopher's thoughts and achievements. A separate glossary provides an introduction to the origins development and main features of major philosophical schools and movements and offers select bibliographies to guide the reader to further research.

Biographical Dictionary of Twentieth-Century Philosophers Stuart Brown, Diane Collinson, Robert Wilkinson, 2012-09-10
This Biographical Dictionary provides detailed accounts of the lives, works, influence and reception of thinkers from all the major philosophical schools and traditions of the twentieth century. This unique volume covers the lives and careers of thinkers from all areas of philosophy from analytic philosophy to Zen and from formal logic to aesthetics. All the major figures of philosophy such as Nietzsche, Wittgenstein and Russell are examined and analysed. The scope of the work is not merely restricted to the major figures in western philosophy but also covers in depth a significant number of thinkers from the near and far east and from the non European Hispanic language communities. The Biographical Dictionary also includes a number of general entries dealing with important schools of philosophy such as the Vienna Circle or currents of thought such as vitalism. These allow the reader to set the individual biographies in the context of the philosophical history of the period. With entries written by over 100 leading philosophy scholars the Biographical Dictionary is the most comprehensive survey of twentieth century thinkers to date. Structure: The book is structured alphabetically by philosopher. Each entry is identically structured for ease of access and covers nationality, dates and places of birth and death, philosophical style or school, areas of interest, higher education, significant influences, main appointments, main publications, secondary literature, account of intellectual development and main ideas, critical reception and impact. At the end of the book a glossary gives accounts of the schools, movements and traditions to which these philosophers belonged and thorough indexes enable the reader to access the information in several ways by nationality, by major areas of contribution to philosophy e.g. aesthetics, by major influences on the thinker concerned e.g. Plato, Kant, Wittgenstein.

Routledge Revivals: Paul Tillich (1973) Alistair Macleod, 2017-09-29
First published in 1973 this is the first book on Paul Tillich in which a sustained attempt is made to sort out and evaluate the questions to which Tillich addresses himself in the crucial philosophical parts of his theological system. It is argued that despite the apparent simplicity in his interest in the question of being, Tillich in fact conceives of the ontological enterprise in a number of radically different ways in different contexts. Much of the author's work is devoted to the careful separation of these strands in his philosophical thought and to an exploration and assessment of the assumptions associated with them. This book will be of interest to readers of Tillich and philosophers who specialise in ontology and linguistics.

The Politics of Agency Jeremy Wisnewski, 2008
Debates about individualism and holism, reductionism and phenomenology and naturalism and humanism all turn on how we answer the basic questions about the nature of human agency This book argues that the traditional emphasis on the accuracy of a given theory of human agency has systematically obscured the normative dimension in these theories and that recognizing this normative dimension allows us to see that a pragmatic approach to theories of agency either in social science or moral philosophy is more appropriate As well as offering a vigorous presentation of the pragmatic therapeutic account of agency Wisnewski also engages critically with three rival accounts from Nietzsche Foucault and Rorty Kant and the Problem of Metaphysics Martin Heidegger,1962

Philosophical Anthropology Battista Mondin,1985 An Outline of the Philosophical Anthropology Stanisław Kowalczyk,1991 What is the nature origin and destiny of man These questions are vital not only to the philosophy This book is an attempt to unite the classic thomistic philosophy with the phenomenological method The first part of the book contains methodological remarks connected with the transition from the phenomenology to the metaphysics of man The second part of the paper gives a phenomenological description of man his corporeity main attributes and activity external and internal The final part of anthropology is the metaphysics of man Human being is the substantial self the personal I a psycho somatic reality endowed with mental faculties The book discusses also the problems of death and immortality the relation between an individual person and social community Canadian Journal of Philosophy ,1980 International Philosophical Quarterly ,1961 Further Studies in Philosophical Anthropology David Holbrook,1988 The Encyclopedia of Philosophy Paul Edwards,1967 Treats eastern it deals with ancient medieval and modern philosophy and it discusses the theories of mathematicians physicist biologist sociologists psychologists moral reformers and religious thinkers where these have had an impact on philosophy Proceedings American Association for the Advancement of Science,1898 Proceedings of the American Association for the Advancement of Science American Association for the Advancement of Science,1898

Romanian Review ,1984 The American Deists Kerry S. Walters,1992 Challenging carved in stone tenets of Christianity deism began sprouting in colonial America in the early 18th century was flourishing nicely by the American revolution and to all intents and purposes was dead by 1811 Despite its hasty demise deism left a theological legacy Christian sensibility would never be quite the same again The Indian Journal of Philosophy ,1959 Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1991 Education ,1896
