BOOK PRIZE FOR HISTORY Before 1862 Joshua Lawrence Chamberlain had rarely left his home state of Maine where he was a trained minister and mild mannered professor at Bowdoin College His colleagues were shocked when he volunteered for the Union army but he was undeterred and later became known as one of the North s greatest heroes On the second day at Gettysburg after running out of ammunition at Little Round Top he ordered his men to wield their bayonets in a desperate charge down a rocky slope that routed the Confederate attackers Despite being wounded at Petersburg and told by two

Weir,2005 The idea of covenant was at the heart of early New England society In this singular book David Weir explores the origins and development of covenant thought in America by analyzing the town and church documents written and signed by seventeenth century New Englanders Unmatched in the breadth of its scope this study takes into account all of the surviving covenants in all of the New England colonies Weir s comprehensive survey of seventeenth century covenants leads to a more complex picture of early New England than what emerges from looking at only a few famous civil covenants like the Mayflower Compact His work shows covenant theology being transformed into a covenantal vision for society but also reveals the stress and strains on church state relationships that eventually led to more secularized colonial governments in eighteenth century New England He concludes that New England colonial society was much more English and much less American than has often been thought and that the New England colonies substantially mirrored religious and social change in Old England
