Hearings, Reports and Prints of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs United States. Congress. House. Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, 1965      Old Norse Religion in Long-term Perspectives Anders

Andrén, 2006-01-01 The study of Old Norse Religion is a truly multidisciplinary and international field of research The rituals myths and narratives of pre Christian Scandinavia are investigated and interpreted by archaeologists historians art historians historians of religion as well as scholars of literature onomastics and Scandinavian studies For obvious reasons these studies belong to the main curricula in Scandinavia but are also carried out at many other universities in Europe the United States and Australia a fact that is evident to any reader of this book In order to bring this broad and varied field of research together an international conference on Old Norse religion was held in Lund in June 2004 About two hundred delegates from more than fifteen countries took part The intention was to gather researchers to encourage and improve scholarly exchange and dialogue and Old Norse religion in long term perspectives presents a selection of the proceedings from that conference The 75 contributions elucidate topics such as worldview and cosmology ritual and religious practice myth and memory as well as the reception and present day use of Old Norse religion The main editors of this volume have directed the multidisciplinary research project Roads to Midgard since 2000 The project is based at Lund University and funded by the Bank of Sweden Tercentenary Foundation      Cladh Hallan - Roundhouses and the dead in the Hebridean Bronze Age and Iron Age Mike Parker Pearson, Jacqui Mulville, Helen Smith, Peter Marshall, 2021-10-31 This first of two volumes presents the archaeological evidence of a long sequence of settlement and funerary activity from the Beaker period Early Bronze Age c 2000 BC to the Early Iron Age c 500 BC at the unusually long occupied site of Cladh Hallan on South Uist in the Western Isles of Scotland Particular highlights of its sequence are a cremation burial ground and pyre site of the 18th 16th centuries BC and a row of three Late Bronze Age sunken floored roundhouses constructed in the 10th century BC Beneath these roundhouses four inhumation graves contained skeletons two of which were remains of composite collections of body parts with evidence for post mortem soft tissue preservation prior to burial They have proved to be the first evidence for mummification in Bronze Age Britain Cladh Hallan s remarkable stratigraphic sequence preserved in the machair sand of South Uist includes a unique 500 year sequence of roundhouse life in Late Bronze Age and Iron Age Britain One of the most important results of the excavation has come from intensive environmental and micro debris sampling of house floors and outdoor areas to recover patterns of discard and to interpret the spatial use of 15 domestic interiors from the Late Bronze Age to the Early Iron Age From Cladh Hallan s roundhouse floors we gain intimate insights into how daily life was organized within the house where people cooked ate worked and slept Such evidence rarely survives from prehistoric houses in Britain or Europe and the results make a profound contribution to long running debates about the sunwise organisation of roundhouse activities Activity at Cladh Hallan ended with the construction and abandonment of two unusual double roundhouses in the Early Iron Age One appears to have been a smokery and steam room and the other was used for metalworking
