step by providing managers project teams and other professionals with approaches that bring techniques regulations strategies and people together into one comprehensive package that works

Cognitive and Linguistic Aspects of Geographic Space D.M. Mark, Andrew U. Frank, 2012-12-06 This book contains twenty eight papers by participants in the NATO Advanced Study Institute ASI on Cognitive and Linguistic Aspects of Geographic Space held in Las Navas del Marqués Spain July 8-20 1990 The NATO ASI marked a stage in a two year research project at the U S National Center for Geographic Information and Analysis NCGIA In 1987 the U S National Science Foundation issued a solicitation for proposals to establish the NCGIA and one element of that solicitation was a call for research on a fundamental theory of spatial relations We felt that such a fundamental theory could be searched for in mathematics geometry topology or in cognitive science but that a simultaneous search in these two seemingly disparate research areas might produce novel results Thus as part of the NCGIA proposal from a consortium consisting of the University of California at Santa Barbara the State University of New York at Buffalo and the University of Maine we proposed that the second major Research Initiative two year multidisciplinary research project of the NCGIA would address these issues and would be called Languages of Spatial Relations The grant to establish the NCGIA was awarded to our consortium late in 1988
