Audience as Performer Caroline Heim, 2015-07-30 Actors always talk about what the audience does I don t understand we are just sitting here Audience as Performer proposes that in the theatre there are two troupes of performers the actors and the audience Although academics have scrutinised how audiences respond make meaning and co create while watching a performance little research has considered the behaviour of the theatre audience as a performance in and of itself This insightful book describes how an audience performs through its myriad gestural vocal and paralingual actions and considers the following questions If the audience are performers who are their audiences How have audiences roles changed throughout history How do talkbacks and technology influence the audience s role as critics What influence does the audience have on the creation of community in theatre How can the audience function as both consumer and co creator Drawing from over 140 interviews with audience members actors and ushers in the UK USA and Australia Heim

Max Oldaker Charles Osborne,1988-01-01 Fields of Vision Leslie Devereaux,Roger Hillman,1995-05-15 Filmed images dominate our time from the movies and TV that entertain us to the news and documentary that inform us and shape our cultural vocabulary Crossing disciplinary boundaries Fields of Vision is a path breaking collection that inquires into the power and limits of film and photography to make sense of ourselves and others As critics social scientists filmmakers and literary scholars the contributors converge on the issues of representation and the construction of visual meaning across cultures From the dismembered bodies of horror film to the exotic bodies of ethnographic film and the gorgeous bodies of romantic cinema Fields of Vision moves through eras genres and societies Always asking how images work to produce meaning the essays address the way the real on film creates fantasy news as well as science and considers this problematic process as cultural boundaries are crossed One essay discusses the effects of Hollywood s high capital world wide commercial hegemony on local and non Western cinemas while another explores the response of indigenous people in central Australia to the forces of mass media and video Other essays uncover the work of the unconscious in cinema the shaping of female spectatorship by the women s film genre of the 1920s and the effects of the personal and subjective in documentary films and the photographs of war reportage In illuminating dark elided or wilfully neglected areas of representation these essays uncover new fields of vision Silent Stars Jeanine Basinger,2000-11 An eminent film historian illuminates the stars of silent film

Popular Fads and Crazes through American History Nancy Hendricks,2018-08-17 This informative two volume set provides readers with an understanding of the fads and crazes that have taken America by storm from colonial times to the present Entries cover a range of topics including food entertainment fashion music and language Why could hula hoops and TV westerns only have been found in every household in the 1950s What murdered Russian princess can be seen in one of the first documented selfies taken in 1914 This book answers those questions and more in its documentation of all of the most captivating trends that have defined American popular culture since before the country began Entries are well researched and alphabetized by decade At the start of every section is an insightful historical overview of the decade and the set uniquely illustrates what today s readers have in common with the past It also contains a Glossary of Slang for each decade as well as a bibliography plus suggestions for further reading for each entry Students and readers interested in history will enjoy discovering trends through the years in such areas as fashion movies music and sports Ruritania Nicholas Daly,2020-01-15 This is a book about the long cultural shadow cast by a single bestselling novel Anthony Hope s The Prisoner of Zenda 1894 which introduced Ruritania a colourful pocket kingdom In this swashbuckling tale Englishman Rudolf Rassendyll impersonates the king of Ruritania to foil a coup but faces a dilemma when he falls for the lovely Princess Flavia Hope s novel inspired stage and screen adaptations place names and even a board game but it also launched a whole new subgenre the Ruritanian romance. The new form offered swordplay, royal romance and splendid uniforms and gowns in such settings as Alasia, Balaria and Cadonia. This study explores both the original appeal of The Prisoner of Zenda and the extraordinary longevity and adaptability of the Ruritanian formula, which it is argued has been rooted in a lingering fascination with royalty and the pocket kingdom's capacity to hold a looking glass up to Britain and later the United States. Individual chapters look at Hope's novel and its stage and film adaptations, at the forgotten American versions of Ruritania, at the chocolate box principalities of the musical stage, at Cold War reworkings of the formula and at Ruritania's recent reappearance in young adult fiction and made for television Christmas movies. The adventures of Ruritania have involved a diverse list of contributors including John Buchan, P. G. Wodehouse, Agatha Christie, Vladimir Nabokov and Ian Fleming among the writers, Sigmund Romberg and Ivor Novello among the composers, Erich Von Stroheim and David O. Selznick among the film makers and Robert Donat, Madeleine Carroll, Peter Ustinov, Peter Sellers and Anne Hathaway among the performers.
