The Men And The Girls:

Mad Men, Women, and Children Heather Marcovitch, Nancy Batty, 2012-07-13 As rich and complex as The Sopranos or The Wire Mad Men demands a critical look at its narrative and characters as representative of both the period it depicts and of our memories and assumptions of the period Mad Men Women and Children Essays on Gender and Generation edited by Heather Marcovitch and Nancy Batty focuses on women and children two groups that are not only identified together in this period women characters in this show are often treated as coddled children and the children look to their parents as models of adult behaviors but are also two groups who are beginning to gain political and social rights in this period The connections between the women of Mad Men early second wave feminism and contemporary third wave feminism and post feminism invite discussion in nearly every episode These characters are further contextualized in light of historical figures and events from the death of Marilyn Monroe and the assassination of Kennedy to the March on Washington and the bohemian counterculture Moreover the points of view of the children who are now adult viewers of Mad Men bridge the 1960s to the social and cultural concerns of today Mad Men Women and Children presents an examination of these characters and issues in light of 1960s feminist writers such as Betty Friedan and popular writers such as Helen Gurley Brown of historical events like the Civil Rights Movement and the Women's Liberation Movement and as lenses through which to view the sensibilities of the early 1960s

The Legal Status of Women in the United States of America, January 1, 1938 Ethel Lombard Best, Florence Patteson Smith, Harriet Anne Byrne, Jean Collier Brown, Margaret Jane Thompson Mettert, Mary Elizabeth Pidgeon, Sara Louise Buchanan, Arthur Theodore Southerland, 1937 Special Agents Series, 1912 Reconceiving Women's Equality in China Lijun Yuan, 2005-01-01 According to the author the subordination of Chinese women continued under different models of sex equality in China in twentieth century In Reconceiving Women's Equality in China Lijun Yuan discusses and assesses four models of women's equality first the traditional Confucian view of women which advocates that women's role is to follow and support men second the liberal feminist idea of formal equality for women introduced into China at the beginning of the twentieth century which is anti Confucian and advocates women's equal rights in education law and employment third Mao's view of women's equality in production calling for substantive equality between men and women finally the idea of equal opportunity in the economic transformation in the post Mao period the revival of Confucianism in this period and its convergence with the declining status of women According to Yuan each of these models has a variety of problems in dealing with women's equality However she sees one common thread running through all of them namely lack of emphasis on empowering women to develop their own visions of equality Ideologies imposed from the top down have rationalized the continuing subordination and exploitation of women either blatantly Confucianism or more subtly Maoism After exposing the common feature in their failure to reach the social ideal of women's equality the author proposes a more democratic conception of women's equality that will allow ideals to continue changing as material circumstances change in different stages of social development This book is a seminal work of research on the status of women in China during and after Mao's cultural revolution It is essential to studies of Chinese society politics and religion as well as to women's studies and philosophy A Danger to the Men?
