Catalogue of the Foreign Office Library, 1926-1968: Author catalogue Great Britain. Foreign Office. Library, 1972 The Mind of Africa Abraham, W.E., 2015-06-12 William Abraham studied Philosophy at the University of Ghana and even more Philosophy at Oxford University Thereafter he gained permission to take part in the competitive examination and interview for a fellowship at All Souls College The examination was once described with some exaggeration as the hardest exam in the world It included a three hour essay Following his success in becoming the first African fellow of All Souls his interest in African politics quickly developed into a Pan African perspective The Mind of Africa written while he was still at All Souls was a fruit of that enlarged perspective After several years as a Fellow he had occasion to visit Ghana in 1962 There Kwame Nkrumah then President of Ghana successfully persuaded him to return to Ghana to teach at the University of Ghana Legon and he subsequently resigned from All Souls In 1968 he went to the United States as a visiting professor This was followed by invitations to teach at various academic institutions there including Berkeley and Stanford He subsequently settled in California where he continued to teach and research philosophy in the University of California at Santa Cruz until his retirement The Mind of Africa appeared at a time when a number of African countries were obtaining or fighting for their political freedom from their colonial rulers and becoming independent nations and expecting to build new societies in accordance with their own visions and conceptions though not necessarily jettisoning all the features of their colonial heritage Building new societies requires appropriate ideologies and philosophies fashioned within the crucible of their cultural and historical experiences Thus the relation between ideology and society is taken up at the very outset of the book The Mind of Africa is important for Africa s future and identity Catalogue, 1926-1968 Great Britain. Foreign Office. Library, 1972 The Mind of Africa Willie E. Abraham, 1962 In an opening discussion of society and ideology or culture Mr Abraham puts forward the view that there is a type of African society the paradigm of this type is set forth in considerable detail in an account of the society and outlook of the Akan the largest and most important of Ghana s linguistic groups The author then considers the realities and images of African history and of Afro European contacts the political and economic prospects and dilemmas and goes through the whole range of questions which must be faced by intellectuals of a new nation when attempting to find their collective soul Catalogue of the Foreign Office Library, 1926-1968: Subject catalogue Great Britain. Foreign Office. Library, 1972 African Cultural Personalities in a World of Change Ikechukwu Anthony Kanu, Ejikemeuwa J. O. Ndubisi, Kanayo Nwadiakor, 2018-08-16 This notwithstanding over the years the African culture in all its manifestations became the bulls eye for attack especially during the Atlantic Slave Trade Colonialism Racism During these periods Europe dealt coup de grace to the African personality to his is ness by destroying the African cultural values They disrespected African peculiarities languages enriched with traditions of centuries parables many of them the quintessence of family and national histories modes of thought influenced more or less by local circumstances local poetry which reveals the profundity of African literary wizardry A lot of these were altered against the background that the African in all his susceptibilities is an inferior race and that it is needful to give him a foreign model beacon to emulate and follow In our time of globalization bringing about a new sweep of changes on the African cultural values a more careful historically grounded interpretation of the cultural changes occurring on the continent is therefore needed and for it to be useful it should enable us to transcend the narrow and narrowing parameters that currently dominate the discourse on the processes and structures of change occurring in contemporary Africa This piece is a great accomplishment by African scholars to do a grounded hermeneutics of the structures of changes taking place in Africa The different chapters are the fruits of the 2018 International Conference of the Association for the Promotion of African Studies APAS The authors like artists combine originality with insightful imagination They have carefully treated the historical conceptual basic and substantive issues in cultural change in Africa Their coherent systematic and encyclopedic approaches have the capacity to expand the intellectual and professional horizon of its readers Scribner's Monthly, an Illustrated Magazine for the People ,1896 The Mothers Robert Briffault,1927 Catalogue of the Colonial Office Library, London Great Britain. Samson,2023-05-30 Winner of the 2023 Balsillie Prize for Public Policy An astounding and inspiring look at the science behind tribalism and how we can learn to harness it to improve the world around us What do you think of when you hear the word tribalism For many it conjures images of bigotry xenophobia and sectarian violence Others may envision their own tribe family friends and the bonds of loyalty that keep them together Tribalism is one of the most complex and ancient evolutionary forces it gave us the capacity for cooperation and competition and allowed us to navigate increasingly complex social landscapes It is so powerful that it can predict our behavior even better than race class gender or religion But in our vast modern world has this blessing become a curse Our Tribal Future explores a central paradox of our species how altruism community kindness and genocide are all driven by the same core adaptation Evolutionary anthropologist David R Samson engages with cutting edge science and philosophy as well as his own field research with small scale societies and wild chimpanzees to explain the science ethics and history of tribalism in compelling and accessible terms This bold and brilliant book reveals provocative truths about our nature Readers will discover that tribalism cannot and should not be eliminated entirely to do so would be to destroy what makes us human But is it possible to channel the best of this instinct to enrich our lives while containing the worst of its dangers The Index ... Benjamin Franklin
