The Melville Archetype:

The Melville Archetype Martin Pops, 1970 The Tragic Hero in Herman Melville's Fiction Boulos Abdulla Sarrou, 1985
Critical Essays on Herman Melville's Typee Milton R. Stern, 1982 The Colby Library Quarterly, 1982 Melville's Sources Mary K. Bercaw Edwards, 1987 An invaluable reference for the researcher Mary K Bercaw's Melville's Sources is a checklist keyed to Melville's works of every source suggested by scholars to have been used by Melville In contrast to similar references this volume relies not only on evidence of possession by the author but on such so called internal evidence as direct references and parallel passages For each source listed Bercaw cites the work or works in which Melville is thought to have used it and every reviewer critic or scholar who has made the attribution Melville's Use of Spenser Carole Moses, 1989 Melville used Spenser throughout his life from the second Fragment From a Writing Desk to Clarel His fascination with the Renaissance poet is revealed by his annotations of Spenser which show an interest in what he seems to see as a dualistic vision a vision that corresponds to his comments on Hawthorne and Spenser in Hawthorne and His Mosses Occasionally Melville will hold up Spenser's ideal world as one which is illusory but often he also alludes to Spenser's darker vision which many of Melville's own characters misunderstand Melville uses Spenser less in his later works however as if finally the bright overlay in Spenser makes him an insufficient vehicle for Melville's own beliefs Jungian Literary Criticism, 1920-1980 Jos Van Meurs, John Kidd, 1988-09 An excellent introductory historical survey an important resource to both literary scholars and followers of Jungian psychology ARBA a great help succeeds quite well in achieving his stated purpose PSYCHOLOGICAL PERSPECTIVES The Game of Creation. The Primeval Unlettered Language of Moby-Dick Or, the Whale. Viola Sachs, 1982 The San Francisco Jung Institute Library Journal, 1988 Herman Melville's Piazza Tales Mary-Madeleine Gina Riddle, 1985 American Transcendental Quarterly, 1986 T.L.S., 1973 The Medical Journal of Australia, 1962 Critical Essays on Herman Melville's Moby Dick Brian Higgins, Hershel Parker, 1992 This volume in the distinguished series contains both a sizable gathering of early reviews and a broad selection of more modern scholarship as well Among the authors of reprinted articles are Virginia Woolf Carl Van Doren Van Wyck Brooks D H Lawrence and Leon Howard In addition to a substantial introduction there are also three newly commissioned essays by John Wenke David S Reynolds and Hershel Parker Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Recent Studies in Myths and Literature, 1970-1990 Bernard Accardi, 1991-08-14 Despite protestations to the contrary myth criticism in literature is not dead witness the well over 1000 illuminating sources published between 1970 and 1990 selected from thousands more and provided with succinct informative annotations The modern study of the relation between myths and literature began in the late 19th century with publication of James G Frazer's The Golden Bough and reached a high water mark with Northrop Frye's archetypal criticism beginning in the late 1950s The end of modernism proclaimed in the late 1960s seemed also to toll the death knell for myth criticism which was denigrated by some new critics of the post modernist era Instead however the authors here have found a wealth of recent materials some proceeding from traditional psychological or anthropological stances and others taking new directions studying relationships between myth and language and myth and history viewing myth as part of the complex fabric of fiction rather than its core and accommodating feminist theory among other approaches The variety of narratives accorded the status of myth has also prompted inquiries on mythopoesis or the literary creation of myth The opening chapter surveys work done on the mythic or archetypal approach in general and on such mythic figures in literature as Orpheus Oedipus Cain and Faust the second chapter covers works on myth in classical literature and the following five chapters correspond to major periods in British and American literature Included are general studies and studies of particular authors notably among them such giants of the past as Shakespeare Milton Melville Joyce and Faulkner but also including such contemporary writers as Toni Morrison and John Updike A well constructed subject index provides access throughout to mythical figures and literary figures as well as major theories and theorists topics and themes and an author index accesses the critical studies
