Talking Forward Talking Back Critical:

New Contexts for Eighteenth-Century British Fiction Christopher D. Johnson, 2011-04-18 New Contexts for Eighteenth Century British Fiction is a collection of thirteen essays honoring Professor Jerry C Beasley who retired from the University of Delaware in 2005. The essays written by friends, collaborators, and former students reflect the scholarly interests that defined Professor Beasley's career and point to new directions of critical inquiry. The initial essays, which discuss Tobias Smollett, Elizabeth Singer Rowe, and Samuel Richardson, suggest new directions in biographical writing, including the intriguing discourse of life writing explored by Paula Backscheider. Subsequent essays enrich understandings of eighteenth-century fiction by examining lesser known works by Jane Barker, Eliza Haywood, and Charlotte Lennox. Many of the essays, especially those that focus on Smollett, use political pamphlets, material artifacts, and urban legends to place familiar novels in new contexts. The collection's final essay demonstrates the vital importance of bibliographic study.

Practicing Critical Oral History Christine K. Lemley, 2017-09-08 Practicing Critical Oral History: Connecting School and Community provides ways and words for educators to use critical oral history in their classroom and communities in order to put their students and the voices of people from marginalized communities at the center of their curriculum to enact change. Clearly and concisely written, this book offers a thought provoking overview of how to use stories from those who have been underrepresented by dominant systems to identify a critical topic, engage with critical processes, and enact critical transformative justice outcomes. Critical oral history both writes and rights history so that participants both interviewers and narrators in critical oral history projects aim to contextualize stories and make the voices and perspectives of those who have been historically marginalized heard and listened to. Supplemented throughout with sample activities, lesson plan outlines, tables, and illustrative figures, Practicing Critical Oral History: Connecting School and Community is an essential resource for all those interested in integrating the techniques of critical oral history into an educational setting.

Fantomina and Other Works Eliza Haywood, 2004-02-11 This collection of early works by Eliza Haywood includes the well known novella Fantomina (1725) along with three other short, highly engaging Haywood works: The Tea Table (1725), Reflections on the Various Effects of Love (1726), and Love Letters on All Occasions (1730). In these writings, Haywood arouses the vicarious experience of erotic love while exploring the ethical and social issues evoked by sexual passion. This Broadview edition includes an introduction that focuses on Haywood's life and career and on the status of prose fiction in the early eighteenth century. Also included are appendices of contextual materials from the period comprising writings by Haywood on female conduct, eighteenth-century pornography from Venus in the Cloister, and a source text Nahum Tate's A Present for the Ladies.

Metaphors of Confinement Monika Fludernik, 2019-08-13 Metaphors of Confinement: The Prison in Fact, Fiction, and Fantasy offers a historical survey of imaginings of the prison as expressed in carceral metaphors in a range of texts about imprisonment from Antiquity to the present as well as non-penal situations described as confining or restrictive. These imaginings coalesce into a carceral imaginary that determines the way we think about prisons just as social debates about punishment and criminals feed into the way carceral imaginary develops over time Examining not only English language prose fiction but also poetry and drama from the Middle Ages to postcolonial particularly African literature the book juxtaposes literary and non literary contexts and contrasts fictional and nonfictional representations of im prison ment and discussions about the prison as institution and experiential reality It comments on present day trends of punitivity and foregrounds the ethical dimensions of penal punishment The main argument concerns the continuity of carceral metaphors through the centuries despite historical developments that included major shifts in policy such as the invention of the penitentiary The study looks at selected carceral metaphors often from two complementary perspectives such as the home as prison or the prison as home or the factory as prison and the prison as factory The case studies present particularly relevant genres and texts that employ these metaphors often from a historical perspective that analyses development through different periods

Thinking about the Enlightenment Martin Davies,2016-03-31 Thinking about the Enlightenment looks beyond the current parameters of studying the Enlightenment to the issues that can be understood by reflecting on the period in a broader context Each of the thirteen original chapters by an international and interdisciplinary team of contributors illustrates the problematic legacy of the Enlightenment and the continued ramifications of its thinking since the eighteenth century Together they consider whether modernity can see its roots in the intellectual revolution of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries The collection is divided into six sections preceded by a comprehensive introduction to the field and the most recent scholarship on the period Across the sections the contributors consider modern day encounters with Enlightenment thinking including Kant s moral philosophy the conflict between reason and faith the significance of the Enlightenment of law and the gender inequality that persisted throughout the eighteenth century By examining specific encounters with the problematic results of Enlightenment concerns the contributors are able to illuminate and offer new perspectives on topics such as human nature race politics gender and rationality Drawing from history philosophy literature and anthropology this book enables students and academics alike to take a fresh look at the Enlightenment and its legacy in the modern world thesis of this volume is that writing done by students who control their own topics who have genuine purposes for writing and have a real known audience is quite different and valuable in its own right It forms a rich source of information about how young students think manage their social interactions and use language with competence to get things done By selecting dialogue journal writing as a corpus for analysis it is possible to observe children s communicative competence in using written language purposefully apart from their ability to master a particular form of writing The central argument is that dialogue journal communication represents a kind of personal literacy prior to and more comprehensive than the particular literacies emphasized and assessed in schools The contents include a practitioner s view of the practice itself and a summary of the research study methods developed to analyze interactive written conversations
