Talking Leadership Conversations With Powerful Women:

Talking Leadership Mary S. Hartman,1999 Interviews with 13 women in areas ranging from philanthropy to politics and from business to academia present a thought provoking look at differences and commonalities in the lives and leadership approaches of women committed to social change Beyond personal details and anecdotes conversations capture a variety of experiences and insights reflecting what it's like to be a woman and a major leader in America at the close of the 20th century Hartman is a professor and director for the Institute of Women's Leadership at Douglass College Rutgers University Lacks a subject index Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Women and Leadership Julia Gillard,Ngozi Okonjo-Iweala,2020-07-23 For readers of Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie Sheryl Sandberg and Mary Beard Women and Leadership is a powerful call to arms about the lack of women at the top Who better qualified to delve into this topic Business Life _____ Women make up less than 10 per cent of national leaders Behind this statistic lies a pattern of unequal access to power Drawing on current research and in conversation with some of the world's most powerful and interesting women about their lived experience Gillard and Okonjo Iweala explore gender bias and ask how we get more women into leadership roles Speaking honestly and freely women leaders such as Jacinda Ardern Hillary Clinton Michelle Bachelet and Theresa May talk about their ideas receiving less acknowledgement than their male colleagues ideas what it's like to be body shamed in the media and the things they wish they had done differently Their stories reveal how gender and sexism affect perceptions of women as leaders their pathways to power and the circumstances in which their leadership comes to an end The result is a rare insight into life as a leader and a powerful call to arms for women everywhere

Paving the Way for Madam President Nichola D. Gutgold,2006-01-01 This book chronicles the lives communication styles and presidential bids of five remarkable women_Margaret Chase Smith Shirley Chisholm Patricia Schroeder Elizabeth Dole and Carol Moseley Braun_while also addressing the obstacles and opportunities for women as presidential contenders Black Women's Rights Carole Boyce Davies,2022-11-01 Black Women's Rights Leadership and the Circularities of Power presents Black women as alternative and transformative leaders in the highest political positions and at grassroots community levels

Beginning with a critique of the assumption of an equivalence between masculinity and political leadership Carole Boyce Davies moves through the various conceptual definitions intents and meanings of leadership and the differences in the presentation of practices of leadership by women and feminist scholars She studies the actualizing of political leadership in the Presidency of Ellen Johnson Sirleaf the historical role of Shirley Chisholm as the first woman to run for presidency of the United States on a leading party ticket the promise of the Black left feminist leadership of Brazilian Marielle Franco and the current model of Prime Minister Mia Mottley of Barbados in advancing new leadership models from the Caribbean This book proclaims the 21st century as the century for Black women's leadership Gender Talk Johnnetta B. Cole,Beverly Guy-Sheftall,2009-01-16 Why has the African American community remained silent about gender even as race has moved to the forefront of our nation's consciousness. In this important new book two of the nation's leading African American intellectuals offer a resounding and far-reaching answer to a question that has been ignored for far too long. Hard hitting and brilliant in its analysis of culture and sexual politics, Gender Talk asserts boldly that gender matters are critical to the Black community in the twenty-first century. In the Black community rape violence against women and sexual harassment are as much the legacy of slavery as is racism. Johnnetta Betsch Cole and Beverly Guy Sheftall argue powerfully that the only way to defeat this legacy is to focus on the intersection of race and gender. Gender Talk examines why the race problem has become so male centered and how this has opened a deep divide between Black women and men. The authors turn to their own lives, offering intimate accounts of their experiences as daughters, wives, and leaders. They examine pivotal moments in African American history when race and gender issues collided with explosive results from the struggle for women's suffrage in the nineteenth century to women's attempts to gain a voice in the Black Baptist movement and on into the 1960s when the Civil Rights movement and the upsurge of Black Power transformed the Black community while sidelining women. Along the way they present the testimonies of a large and influential group of Black women and men, including bell hooks, Faye Wattleton, Bettye Avery, Cornell West, Robin DG Kelley, Michael Eric Dyson, Marcia Gillispie, and Dorothy Height. Providing searching analysis into the present, Cole and Guy Sheftall uncover the cultural assumptions and attitudes in hip hop and rap in the O.J. Simpson and Mike Tyson trials, in the Million Men and Million Women Marches, and in the battle over Clarence Thomas's appointment to the Supreme Court. Fearless and eye-opening, Gender Talk is required reading for anyone concerned with the future of African American women and men.

Gender and the American Presidency Theodore F. Sheckels, Nichola D. Gutgold, Diana B. Carlin, 2012-03-08

In Gender and the American Presidency, Nine Presidential Women and the Barriers They Faced, Theodore F. Sheckels, Nichola D. Gutgold, and Diana Bartelli Carlin invite the audience to consider women qualified enough to be president and explore reasons why they have been dismissed as presidential contenders. This analysis profiles key presidential contenders including Barbara Mikulski, Nancy Pelosi, Nancy Kassebaum, Kathleen Sebelius, Christine Gregoire, Linda Lingle, Elizabeth Dole, Dianne Feinstein, and Olympia Snowe. Gender barriers, media coverage, communication style, geography, and other factors are examined to determine why these seemingly qualified, powerful politicos failed to win the White House. Watch the authors discuss gender and American politics on CSPAN's BookTV.

The Rise of Corporate Feminism Allison Elias, 2022-12-06

From the 1960s through the 1990s, the most common job for women in the United States was clerical work. Even as college-educated women obtained greater opportunities for career advancement, occupational segregation by gender remained entrenched. How did feminism in corporate America come to represent the individual success of the executive woman and not the collective success of the secretary? Allison Elias argues that feminist goals of advancing equal opportunity and promoting meritocracy unintentionally undercut the status and prospects of so-called pink-collar workers. In the 1960s, ideas about sex equality spurred some clerical workers to organize, demanding raises and respect.

while others pushed for professionalization through credentialing This cross class alliance pushed a feminist agenda that included unionizing some clerical workers and advancing others who had college degrees into management But these efforts diverged in the 1980s when corporations adopted measures to move qualified women into their upper ranks By the 1990s corporate support for professional women resulted in an individualistic feminism that focused on the needs of those at the top Meanwhile as many white college educated women advanced up the corporate ladder clerical work became a job for lower socioeconomic status women of all races The Rise of Corporate Feminism considers changes in the workplace surrounding affirmative action human resource management automation and unionization by groups such as 9to5 At the intersection of history gender and management studies this book spotlights the secretaries clerks receptionists typists and bookkeepers whose career trajectories remained remarkably similar despite sweeping social and legal change Inside Women's Power Sumru Erkut,2001 Feminist Studies ,1999 Unfinished Agendas Judith Glazer-Raymo,2008-06-30 Drawing on research this volume explores issues faced by women as newly minted PhDs as faculty members as administrators and as academic leaders It describes women's struggles with the multiple demands of productivity accountability family work responsibility and the subconscious dance of identities within various cultural contexts
