Personality in Speech Tim Polzehl, 2014-08-30 This work combines interdisciplinary knowledge and experience from research fields of psychology linguistics audio processing machine learning and computer science The work systematically explores a novel research topic devoted to automated modeling of personality expression from speech For this aim it introduces a novel personality assessment questionnaire and presents the results of extensive labeling sessions to annotate the speech data with personality assessments It provides estimates of the Big 5 personality traits i e openness conscientiousness extroversion agreeableness and neuroticism Based on a database built on the questionnaire the book presents models to tell apart different personality types or classes from speech automatically

The Oxford Handbook of Accurate Personality Judgment Tera D. Letzring, Jana S. Spain, 2021 Each day we make judgments about the personality characteristics of those around us and we routinely rely on them to guide our behavior in interpersonal interactions and relationships This handbook provides a review of theory and research on the accuracy of personality judgments After a historical review the first section presents the major theoretical models that guide research in this area and describes methodological approaches to evaluating accuracy The second section reviews the research findings relevant to four moderators of accuracy and the third section focuses on judgments people make of themselves The fourth section examines various types of information used in making personality judgments while the fifth section provides examples of some of the domains to which accuracy research can be applied including romantic relationships and clinical practice Learning about the process of accurate judgments can be used to help people understand when and how they are more likely to make accurate judgments and this handbook offers a thorough evidence based and up to date review of this research field
