Taylor, 1989-10-06 Hardy insisted that his poetry steadily grew in skill and maturity Hardy's Poetry 1860 1928 traces this development Gradually Hardy makes his lyric poem the model of a man's life the way the lyric speaker forms his thoughts within the few moments of a reverie recapitulates the way a man has thought over a lifetime the smaller interruption of the reverie portends the larger interruptions of life This lyric model is supported by a distinctive imagery of visual patterns whose implications Hardy explores These patterns come to symbolise the patterns of life and mind which crystallise over a lifetime and are belatedly revealed      Thomas Hardy Letter Thomas Hardy, 1903      Hardy's Poetic Vision in The Dynasts Susan Dean, 2015-03-08 Susan Dean uses Hardy's own metaphor the diorama of a dream to interpret The Dynasts his largest and last major composition She shows that the poem presents a model of the human mind In that mind is enacted an event the war with Napoleon and simultaneously the watching of that event The author provides a reading of the poem in visual dramatic terms using the diorama stage as the vehicle for the poet's field of vision She then defines various visual dimensions the relationships between them and the various ways in which they can be seen and understood Her interpretation draws on Hardy's autobiography and critical essays Originally published in 1977 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905
