Things are looking up for Robin Hudson. She's been promoted, her nonmonogamous love life is cruising along and her cat is making decent money as an advertising spokesfeline. It's time for a girls' night out. And what better night than Halloween? Bad decision. Robin plans to meet up with her gal pals and her new intern Kathy in a Times Square bar. But Kathy doesn't show. According to a phone message she's trapped in a married man's closet. Turns out Kathy was chasing a story for Robin. As Robin and her posse track Kathy's last movements, they find strategically placed notes that refer to Robin's teenage past when she and her best friend Julie were class outcasts also known as the cootie girls. Now an evening of trick or treat turns into an encounter with real and present danger as Robin is plunged into a morass of money laundering, mobsters, mayhem and murder that could get a nice girl killed. The Robin Hudson Mystery series is a winner of the Sherlock Award for Best Comic Detective. Library,1976 Textos de Rufino Tamayo Rufino Tamayo,1987 Beyond Individualism Lois Parkinson Zamora,2026-01-11 A sweeping analysis of archetypal realism in Latin American literature and art. Beyond Individualism examines the portrayal of collective identities over two centuries in Latin American literature and visual art. Lois Parkinson Zamora shows that many authors and artists are less concerned with singular selves than with selves in relation less with individual autonomy than with communal affiliation. Their works sometimes situated under the labels Neobaroque, magical realism, Surrealism, Expressionism and idealism resist the kind of psychological realism typical of European and North American novels moving instead toward a wholly new kind of fiction. Zamora calls this new Latin American form archetypal realism because its characters represent entities larger than themselves. They may embody entire communities, cultures, families, religious orders or ideal planets. Through deft readings of collective characters in fiction by Gabriel García Márquez, Isabel Allende, Jorge Luis Borges and more alongside the art of Diego Rivera, Remedios Varo and Xul Solar, Zamora reveals a modernity based not on Enlightenment conceptions of selfhood but on community, collectivity and kinship. ISLA,1975-07 Clippings of Latin American political, social and economic news from various English language newspapers. Who's Who in American Art,1978 Voces de artistas Teresa del Conde,2005 The book is a compilation of interviews by a group of historians of 23 contemporary Mexican artists on how they conceive their artwork in an era of globalization and how they perceive the current panorama of Mexican painting. They also express their ideas and thoughts regarding the role of curators, galleries and museums in society, the present art market situation and about art criticism. The selection of artist was based on their trajectory and the number of their exhibitions mostly done in MAM. Selected artists include Miguel Castro, Léon Magali, Lara, Gustavo Monroy, Luis Argudín, Irma Palacios, Víctor Lerma, Roberto Parodi, Luciano Span, Tancredi, Boris Viskin and others.
