Taras Bulba Nikolaï Vasil'evich Gogol',1931 Janáček Beyond the Borders Derek Katz,2009 This contextual study of Jan cek s operas reveals the composer s creative responses to a wide range of Czech and non Czech traditions Leos Jan cek is increasingly recognized as one of the major operatic masters of the early twentieth century In Jan cek beyond the Borders Derek Katz presents an interpretive and critical study of Jan cek s major operas that questions prevailing views of the composer s relationship to the Czech language and to Slavic culture and demonstrates that the operas are deeply indebted to various existing operatic traditions outside of the Czech speaking realm Katz discusses the implications for Jan cek s operas of the composer s notorious speech melody theories and of his fascination with Russia He also points out revealing and persuasive parallels to certain major operas in non Czech traditions French Italian and German that deserve notice and that demonstrate how the composer developed a practical operatic aesthetic through emulation and creative adaptation In this fresh and novel approach Katz goes beyond the normal evidentiary record letters sketches and published writings and allows Jan cek s works to speak for themselves Derek Katz is Associate Professor of Music History at the University of California Santa Barbara He has written about Czech music for American and European academic journals and for the New York Times

Taras Bulba Nikolay Vasilyevic Gogol,2011-04-01 Beethoven's Century Hugh Macdonald,2008 World renowned musicologist Hugh Macdonald draws together many of his richest essays on music from Beethoven s time into the early 20th century The essays address perennial questions of what music meant to the composer and his audiences and how it was intended to be played Repetition and Creation Radosvet Kolarov,2020-12-29 This book advances the notion of autotextuality the dialogue between works in an author s oeuvre and the ways in which new texts are created in self repetition through the tracing and revisiting of past texts and the subsequent uncovering of undisclosed meanings unexhausted constructive principles and alternative versions Kolarov draws on cognitive models such as dual coding theory and conceptual blending to substantiate a theory of autotextuality and build on previous work on self repetition and difference to highlight the notion of discursive desire in which new meanings are generated through repetition and its distinct relationship to creativity Drawing on analyses of well established works in Bulgarian as well as the established oeuvres of such authors as Gogol Dostoevsky Kafka and Baudelaire the volume explores key themes in autotextuality such as the functions of creative memory the connections between word and image and the hermeneutic relationships and steps of transformation between texts This innovative work addresses topical questions of importance in literary theory today and will be of interest to students and scholars in literary studies and related areas of study within such fields as cognitive science quantum mechanics and psychology
