of an expansionist Indian civilisation in civilizing Southeast Asia The argument was extended to include Central Asia Africa North and South America and other regions where Indian migrants were to be found The advocates of this Indocentric and Hindu revivalist approach with Hindu and Indian often taken to be synonymous were involved in a quintessentially parochial project despite its apparently international dimensions to justify an Indian expansionist imagination that viewed India's past as a colonizer and civilizer of other lands as a model for the restoration of that past greatness in the future Zabarskaite shows that the crucial ideologues and elements used for the formation of the construct of Greater India can be traced to the svade movement of the turn of the century and that Greater India moved easily between the domains of the scholarly and the popular as it sought to establish itself as a form of nationalist self assertion The National Magazine, 1890 The South Sea Islanders and the Queensland Labour Trade William Twizell Wawn, 1893 Transactions Kansas State Historical Society, 1890 The Mysteries of the Ocean ...
