1. Initial contact: The teacher will introduce the students to the class and ask them to introduce themselves. The teacher will ask the students to say their names and where they are from. The teacher will then ask the students to say a few words about themselves, such as their hobbies, interests, and what they like to do in their free time.

2. Icebreaker: The teacher will ask the students to form small groups of two or three and have them introduce themselves to each other. The teacher will then ask each group to present their introductions to the class.

3. Group discussion: The teacher will divide the class into small groups of four or five students. Each group will be assigned a topic related to the theme of the lesson, such as "My Family", "My Hobbies", "My School", or "My Future". Each group will have 10-15 minutes to discuss and come up with a presentation for the class.

4. Group presentations: Each group will present their findings to the class. The teacher will ask the students to ask questions and give feedback to the presenters. The teacher will then ask the students to evaluate the presentations and provide constructive feedback.

5. Conclusion: The teacher will summarize the lesson and ask the students to reflect on what they learned and what they enjoyed. The teacher will then ask the students to say a few words about what they learned and what they enjoyed.

6. Homework: The teacher will assign a writing assignment for the students to complete. The assignment will be to write a short story about their family or a hobby they enjoy.

7. Feedback: The teacher will ask the students to write a short reflection on what they learned and what they enjoyed. The teacher will then read through the reflections and provide feedback to the students.

8. Final assessment: The teacher will ask the students to complete a final assessment, such as a quiz or a writing assignment, to evaluate their understanding of the lesson.

9. Evaluation: The teacher will evaluate the students based on their participation in class, their presentation, and their overall performance.

10. Conclusion: The teacher will conclude the lesson by summarizing the main points and asking the students to reflect on what they learned and what they enjoyed.

training that this Research Topic focuses on prolonged performance on game like cognitive tasks The ultimate goal of this cognitive training is to improve ecologically valid target functions For example cognitive training should help children with ADHD to stay focused at school or help older adults to manage the complexity of daily life However so far this goal has proven too ambitious Transfer from trained to non trained tasks is not even guaranteed in a laboratory so there is a strong need for understanding how when and for how long cognitive training has effect Which cognitive functions are amenable to game training for whom and how Are there mediating factors for success such as motivation attention or age Are the improvements real or can they be attributed to nonspecific factors such as outcome expectancy or demand characteristics
