The Good Parsi The Fate Of A Colonial Elite In A Postcolonial Society:

The Good Parsi Tanya M. Luhrmann, 1996 During the Raj one group stands out as having prospered because of British rule the Parsis The Zoroastrian people adopted the manners dress and aspirations of their British colonizers and were rewarded with high level financial mercantile and bureaucratic posts Indian independence however ushered in their decline

The Parsis of India Jesse Palsetia, 2021-11-22 The Parsis of India examines a much neglected area of Asian Studies In tracing keypoints in the development of the Parsi community it depicts the Parsis history and accounts for their ability to preserve maintain and construct a distinct identity For a great part the story is told in the colonial setting of Bombay city Ample attention is given to the Parsis evolution from an insular minority group to a modern community of pluralistic outlook Filling the obvious lacunae in the literature on British colonialism Indian society and history and last but not least Zoroastrianism this book broadens our knowledge of the interaction of colonialism and colonial groups and elucidates the significant role of the Parsis in the commercial educational and civic milieu of Bombay colonial society

Children of Colonialism Lionel Caplan, 2020-12-01 Among the legacies of the colonial encounter are any number of contemporary mixed race populations descendants of the offspring of sexual unions involving European men colonial officials traders etc and local women These groups invite serious scholarly attention because they not only challenge notions of a rigid divide between colonizer and colonized but beg a host of questions about continuities and transformations in the postcolonial world This book concerns one such group the Eurasians of India or Anglo Indians as they came to be designated Caplan presents an historicized ethnography of their contemporary lives as these relate both to the colonial past and to conditions in the present In particular he forcefully shows that features which theorists associate with the postcolonial present blurred boundaries multiple identities creolized cultures have been part of the colonial past as well Presenting a powerful argument against theoretically essentialized notions of culture hybridity and postcoloniality this book is a much needed contribution to recent debates in cultural studies literary theory anthropology sociology as well as historical studies of colonialism mixed race populations and cosmopolitan identities

The Changing Face of Land and Conservation in Post-colonial Africa

George Barrett, Shirley Brooks, Jenny Josefsson, Nqobile Zulu, 2016-03-22 The year 2013 marked the 100th anniversary of the 1913 Land Act in South Africa which legalised the violent dispossession and alienation of the African majority from the land It is common cause that the alienation of land for conservation purposes introduced to Africa under colonial rule has continued more or less uninterrupted until today However while nature conservation practices inevitably raise challenging questions relating to land and land use there has thus far been little concentrated effort to bring together scholars working on the land question particularly around issues of land tenure with those whose work focuses on questions of nature construction and the social impacts of conservation in an African context Compiled from research presented at a ground breaking interdisciplinary conference held at Rhodes University in Grahamstown South Africa in 2012 the chapters in this book made their first appearance in a special issue of the Journal of Contemporary African Studies JCAS in July 2013 The book brings critical interdisciplinary analyses of the complex interrelations between contemporary neoliberal conservation practices in post colonial Africa into conversation with the well trodden territory of land use and contested land issues on the continent Anchored by an intellectual curiosity about the extent to which past practices continue into the present and with what consequences the book provides fresh insights into the complex relationship between land and conservation in contemporary Africa

Chinese Femininities, Chinese Masculinities Susan Brownell,Jeffrey N. Wasserstrom,2002 Chinese Literature Lydia

H Liu Recasting American and Persian Literatures Amirhossein Vafa,2016-12-09 Reading literary and cinematic events between and beyond American and Persian literatures this book questions the dominant geography of the East West divide which charts the global circulation of texts as World Literature Beyond the limits of national literary historiography and neocolonial cartography of world literary discourse the minor character Parsee Fedallah in Herman Melville's Moby Dick 1851 is a messenger who travels from the margins of the American literature canon to his Persian literary counterparts in contemporary Iranian fiction and film above all the rural woman Mergan in Mahmoud Dowlatabadi's novel Missing Soluch 1980 In contention with Eurocentric treatments of world literatures and in recognition of efforts to recast the worldliness of American and Persian literatures this book maintains that aesthetic properties are embedded in their local histories and formative geographies

South Asia and its Others Atreyee Phukan,V.G. Julie Rajan,2020-10-27 The essays in South Asia and Its Others Reading the Exotic reveal fresh perspectives on the notion of exoticism in South Asia and also challenge and extend existing scholarship in the broader discourse of what constitutes South Asia Significantly the anthology considers how the phenomenon of exoticization may be interpreted as a strategic methodology utilized by writers of South Asian descent to examine critically both the post colonialist ramifications of casteism religious intolerance and gender violence across differing cultural contexts within the region and how current perceptions of native and diasporic South Asian subjects problematize ideologies of authenticity across Western Eastern divides The papers in this collection show how authors of South Asian ethnicity construct their own version of an exotic South Asia globally and the colonialist discourse of exocitism is employed as a discursive tool that uncovers the ambiguity that continues to mark the marginality of identities even today

Postcolonial Theory B. J. Moore-Gilbert,1997 Much controversy has recently come to surround the status and value of postcolonial modes of cultural analysis Postcolonial theory has been challenged on several fronts on its interdisciplinary competence on the politics of its institutional location and its implicit will to have power over other kinds of postcolonial analysis many of which have been established for much longer than postcolonial theory itself The ensuing debate has often become so heated even personalized that the issues at stake have been obscured In what is the most comprehensive and accessible survey of the field to date Bart Moore Gilbert systematically examines the objections that have been raised against postcolonial theory revealing the simplifications and exaggerations on both sides of the argument He provides a detailed institutional history of the ways in which the relationship between culture and colonialism was traditionally studied in the West then traces the emergence of alternative forms of postcolonial analysis of such questions He gives an extremely careful presentation of the complex and elusive work of the three principal representatives of postcolonial theory Gayatri Spivak Edward Said and Homi Bhabha and considers the criticisms they have faced from an alleged Eurocentrism to an obfuscating prose style And he assesses the overlaps and differences between postcolonial theory and other forms of postcolonial criticism Finally he considers the ways in which postcolonial analysis may be connected with different histories of oppression and looks at how such a heterogeneous theory can be reconciled with political questions of solidarity and alliance in the continuing struggle for cultural decolonization   Anthropos ,1997   From Violence to Supportive Practice UNIFEM South Asia Regional Office, New Delhi,2002 Contributed articles   The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,1998   The Writers Directory ,2013   Pangs of Partition: The human dimension S.
