The Greater Leisures Uncorrected Proof:

The Life of the Great Lord Fairfax ... With Portrait, Maps, Plans, and Illustrations Sir Clements Robert Markham, 1870

A Life of the Great Lord Fairfax, Commander-in-chief of the Army of the Parliament of England Sir Clements Robert Markham, 1870 Canadian Quarterly Review and Family Magazine, 1864 Aging and the Macroeconomy National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on Population, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Board on Mathematical Sciences and Their Applications, Committee on the Long-Run Macroeconomic Effects of the Aging U.S. Population, 2013-01-10 The United States is in the midst of a major demographic shift In the coming decades people aged 65 and over will make up an increasingly large percentage of the population The ratio of people aged 65 to people aged 20 64 will rise by 80% This shift is happening for two reasons people are living longer and many couples are choosing to have fewer children and to have those children somewhat later in life The resulting demographic shift will present the nation with economic challenges both to absorb the costs and to leverage the benefits of an aging population Aging and the Macroeconomy Long Term Implications of an Older Population presents the fundamental factors driving the aging of the U S population as well as its societal implications and likely long term macroeconomic effects in a global context The report finds that while population aging does not pose an insurmountable challenge to the nation it is imperative that sensible policies are implemented soon to allow companies and households to respond It offers four practical approaches for preparing resources to support the future consumption of households and for adapting to the new economic landscape

Measuring What We Spend National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Panel on Redesigning the BLS Consumer Expenditure Surveys, 2013-02-15 The Consumer Expenditure CE surveys are the only source of information on the complete range of consumers expenditures and incomes in the United States as well as the characteristics of those consumers The CE consists of two separate surveys 1 a national sample of households interviewed five times at three month intervals and 2 a separate national sample of households that complete two consecutive one week expenditure diaries For more than 40 years these surveys the responsibility of the Bureau of Labor Statistics BLS have been the principal source of knowledge about changing patterns of consumer spending in the U S population In February 2009 BLS initiated the Gemini Project the aim of which is to redesign the CE surveys to improve data quality through a verifiable reduction in measurement error with a particular focus on underreporting The Gemini Project initiated a series of information gathering meetings conference sessions forums and workshops to identify appropriate strategies for improving CE data quality As part of this effort BLS requested the National Research Council's Committee on National Statistics CNSTAT to convene an expert panel to build on the Gemini Project by conducting further investigations and proposing redesign options for the CE surveys The charge to the Panel on Redesigning the BLS Consumer Expenditure Surveys includes reviewing the output of a Gemini convened data user needs forum and methods workshop and convening its own household survey producers workshop to obtain further input In addition the panel was tasked to commission options from contractors for consideration in recommending possible redesigns The panel was further asked by BLS to create potential redesigns that would put a greater emphasis on proactive data collection to improve the measurement of consumer expenditures Measuring What We Spend summarizes the deliberations and activities of the panel discusses the conclusions about the uses of the CE surveys and why a redesign is needed as well as recommendations for the future

Useless Activity Christopher Webb, 2022-07-01 Using a broad range of archival material from Washington University St Louis the University of Glasgow and the British Library Useless Activity Work Leisure and British Avant Garde Fiction 1960 1975 is the first study to ask why the experimental writing of the 1960s and 1970s appears so fraught with anxiety about its own uselessness before suggesting that this very anxiety was symptomatic of a unique period in British literary history when traditional notions about literary work and what worked in terms of literature were being radically scrutinised and reassessed The study is divided into five chapters with three of those dedicated to the close analysis of work produced by three writers representative of the 1960s British avant garde Eva Figes 1932 2012 B S Johnson 1933 1973 and Alexander Trocchi 1925 1984 The book argues that these writers preoccupations with concepts related to work such as leisure debt and various forms of neglected labour like housework allow us to rethink the British avant garde s relation to realism while posing broader questions about the production and value of post war literary avant gardism more generally Useless Activity proposes that only with an understanding of the British avant garde s engagement with the idea of work and its various corollaries can we appreciate these writers move away from certain forms of literary realism and their contribution to the development of the modern British novel during the mid twentieth century

Handicapped and Impaired in Great Britain Amelia I. Harris, 1971 Report on a national survey of handicapped disabled person persons and disabled workers in the UK covers health and welfare employment vehicular transport living conditions working conditions leisure activities recreation services social services holidays etc and includes statistical tables according to age group sex marital status position in the occupational structure housing educational level together with the text of the questionnaire and information on the research methods used

Resident Duty Hours Institute of Medicine, Committee on Optimizing Graduate Medical Trainee (Resident) Hours and Work Schedules to Improve Patient Safety, 2009-05-27 Medical residents in hospitals are often required to be on duty for long hours In 2003 the organization overseeing graduate medical education adopted common program requirements to restrict resident workweeks including limits to an average of 80 hours over 4 weeks and the longest consecutive period of work to 30 hours in order to protect patients and residents from unsafe conditions resulting from excessive fatigue Resident Duty Hours provides a timely examination of how those requirements were implemented and their impact on safety education and the training institutions An in depth review of the evidence on sleep and human performance indicated a need to increase opportunities for sleep during residency training to prevent acute and chronic sleep deprivation and minimize the risk of fatigue related errors In addition to recommending opportunities for on duty sleep during long duty periods and breaks for sleep of appropriate lengths between work periods the committee also recommends enhancements of supervision appropriate workload and changes in the work environment to improve conditions for safety and learning All residents medical educators those involved with academic training institutions specialty societies professional groups and consumer patient safety organizations will find this book useful to advocate for an improved culture of safety The Nation ,1871 The New Walford Ray Lester,2005 Covers 15 broad subject groupings social sciences generic psychology sociology social work politics government law finance accountancy industries business education sport media information and tools for information professionals The New-York Mirror ,1833 The Law Times ,1897

The Classical Review ,1890 This companion to the Classical Quarterly contains reviews of new work dealing with the literatures and civilizations of ancient Greece and Rome Over 300 books are reviewed each year The Overworked American Juliet Schor,1993-03-24 This pathbreaking book explains why contrary to all expectations Americans are working harder than ever Juliet Schor presents the astonishing news that over the past twenty years our working hours have increased by the equivalent of one month per year a dramatic spurt that has hit everybody men and women professionals as well as low paid workers Why are we unlike every other industrialized Western nation repeatedly choosing money over time And what can we do to get off the treadmill The Leisure Hour ,1883 Medical Record George Frederick Shrady,Thomas Lathrop Stedman,1897 Medical record ,1890 The Bookman ,1900 English Mechanic and Mirror of Science ,1870 Christian Union ,1874
