Paradoxes of Green Gareth Doherty, 2017-02-07 This innovative multidisciplinary study considers the concept of green from multiple perspectives aesthetic architectural environmental political and social in the Kingdom of Bahrain where green has a long and deep history of appearing cooling productive and prosperous a radical contrast to the hot and hostile desert Although green is often celebrated in cities as a counter to gray urban environments green has not always been good for cities Similarly manifestation of the color green in arid urban environments is often in direct conflict with the practice of green from an environmental point of view This paradox is at the heart of the book In arid environments such as Bahrain the contradiction becomes extreme and even unsustainable Based on long term ethnographic fieldwork Gareth Doherty explores the landscapes of Bahrain where green represents a plethora of implicit human values and exists in dialectical tension with other culturally and environmentally significant colors and hues Explicit in his book is the argument that concepts of color and object are mutually defining and thus a discussion about green becomes a discussion about the creation of space and place

Welsh Environments in Contemporary Poetry Matthew Jarvis, 2021-03-15 Welsh Environments in Contemporary Poetry examines the question of how recent English language poetry from Wales has responded to the diverse physical environments of Wales The first volume to offer a sustained assessment of Welsh poetry in English within the context of recent developments in environmental literary criticism this book also draws on aspects of human geography to explore the rich contemporary poetics of Welsh space and place Opening with an examination of poets from the 1960s as well as the early work of R S Thomas Welsh Environments in Contemporary Poetry subsequently concentrates on the poetry of writers who have come to prominence since the 1970s Gillian Clarke Ruth Bidgood Robert Minhinnick Mike Jenkins Christine Evans and Ian Davidson

Close reading of key texts reveals the way in which these writers variously create Welsh places landscapes and environments fashioning rural and urban spaces into poetic geographies that are both abundantly physical and inescapably cultural Far from reducing Wales to mere scenery the poetry that emerges from this book engages with the environments of Wales not just for their own sake but as a crucial way of exploring key issues in Welsh culture from the negotiation of female identity in a land of masculine myths to the exploration of Welsh space in a global context
