Doing Labor Activism in South China Darcy Pan,2020-06-01 How did labor NGOs come into existence in contemporary China How do labor activists act or not act when the limits of state tolerance are unclear With a focus on labor NGOs in South China and Western funding agencies this book sets out to address these questions by investigating the dynamics of state control in post socialist China since the 1970s in which rapid economic and social transformations have cultivated an environment of uncertainty Taking uncertainty as an analytical space productive of emergent practices and discourses this book draws on original fieldwork and interviews to study the lived experiences of different actors throughout the labor NGO community the foreign donors trying to bring about change and the networks of social relationships being strategically reconfigured Doing Labor Activism in South China offers an ethnography of the Chinese state that reveals an intimate and complicit modality of self governing demonstrating how neoliberal ideas are at once represented by international development and deflected in grassroots development It will be useful to students and scholars of Social Anthropology and Urban Ethnography as well as Political Science and Chinese Studies more generally
