Subcommittee on Domestic Monetary Policy,1985 Education as and for Legitimacy M.K. Bacchus,2006-01-01 This study of the development of education in the British West Indian colonies during the last half of the nineteenth century examines the educational policies and curriculum used in schools following the abolition of slavery During this period the nature and development of the educational system in the region was profoundly affected by the decline of the sugar industry the emergence of black and coloured middle classes and the threat they posed to the ruling white elite and the institutionalization of cultural divisions between the black and white populations Bacchus argues that after 1846 the elite white plantocracy used the educational system to maintain domination following the end of slavery This is the first book to present an overall picture of educational developments in the British West Indies in this period and pays special attention to the historical context in which they occurred In Education as and for Legitimacy the author continues the study of West Indian education he began with his previous book Utilization Misuse and Development of Human Resources in the Early West Indian Colonies Federal Acquisition Circular United States. Organization of the Government of Canada ,1966 The Soldier and The Revolutionary. From a Semiotic Angle Sayantan Dasgupta,2017-05-19 Essay from the year 2017 in the subject History Miscellaneous University of Calcutta Indian Statistical Institute course Masters language English abstract This essay is about using a semiotic angle to evaluate the existence and activities of a soldier and a revolutionary in a stratified manner The most common definitional difference between a soldier and a revolutionary is that a soldier is a person who serves in an army and obeys orders given to him by a government and a revolutionary is someone who is involved in causing a complete or dramatic change in a society country or in the international sphere My concern here is the projection of a soldier who is a part of a national government and a revolutionary in both national and international sphere The word soldier is used almost unanimously in a positive sense But the word revolutionary is used in both positive and negative sense The reason is a soldier is always on the government's side whereas a revolutionary stands against the government I am not here taking into account the notion of government in exile as I am here dealing with a country's electorally elected government and a government in exile is also a revolutionary government or organization and it stands on the opposite side of an electorally elected government
