German Film after Germany Randall Halle, 2010-10-01 What is the work of film in the age of transnational production To answer that question Randall Halle focuses on the film industry of Germany one of Europe s largest film markets and one of the world s largest film producing nations In the 1990s Germany experienced an extreme transition from a state subsidized mode of film production that was free of anxious concerns about profit and audience entertainment to a mode dominated by private interest and big capital At the same time the European Union began actively drawing together the national markets of Germany and other European nations sublating their individual significances into a synergistic whole This book studies these changes broadly but also focuses on the transformations in their particular national context It balances film politics and film aesthetics tracing transformations in financing along with analyses of particular films to describe the effects on the film object itself Halle concludes that we witness currently the emergence of a new transnational aesthetic a fundamental shift in cultural production with ramifications for communal identifications state cohesion and national economies     German Film Deutsche Kinemathek - Museum für Film und Fernsehen, 2024-10-23 Comprehensive German film history German Film From the Archives of the Deutsche Kinemathek offers a captivating journey through the history of German cinema from the earliest moving images of 1895 to the present day This richly illustrated volume opens the Deutsche Kinemathek s archives illuminating the artistic technical political and social developments that have shaped German film In twelve chapters over 420 essays tell the stories of both celebrated and lesser known films paying tribute to the creativity of the many personalities who continue to shape German cinema Featuring more than 2 700 items from
