The Groundwork Of Christian Ethics:

The Groundwork of Christian Ethics Norman Hamilton Galloway Robinson, 1972 Many theologians as well as many philosophers may be heard today asserting that there neither is nor can be any such thing as a uniquely Christian ethical system On the one hand it is argued that an ethic based on revelation must be inherently static unable to respond to new demands and situations but if the ethical code is little more than a refinement of so called natural law or natural morality then there is no reason to term it Christian In consequence most of the current discussion in the field of ethics addresses itself almost exclusively to a consideration of such specific issues as war sex abortion or mercy killing Professor N H G Robinson however turns his attention to the basic question of what Christian ethics really is Morality Robinson argues was not created by Christianity but exists independently all men are subject to it whatever their belief This fundamental truth about human beings is of profound significance for theology which must continue to insist upon an objective moral code We will never understand Christian ethics Robinson asserts until we accept the doctrine of natural morality But there can hardly be two moralities one natural and the other supernatural each competing for our obedience Rejecting both the medieval and the post Reformation approaches to the relationship of natural and Christian ethics Robinson looks to the redemptive nature of Christian revelation for his answer Moral standards are not merely imposed upon us nor do we invent them we discover them their authority depends on their existing independently of us It is the entry of redemptive revelation into the system of moral philosophy that creates what Robinson describes as natural morality judged reoriented and transformed and brought under the forgiving and reconciling lordship of Christ which constitutes the Christian life Here then is no inflexible static code incapable of responding to change Rather Robinson describes a creative ethic that is objective normative and theocentric a morality always in the making it is a way of life not a closed system Moral rules he overserves are yesterday s moral solutions Teh Groundwork of Christian Ethics is a major contribution to the field of Christian ethics which no serious student can afford to overlook Publisher Groundwork of Christian Ethics Richard G. Jones, 1984 The Groundwork of the Christian Virtues William Bernard Ullathorne, 1882 T&T Clark Handbook of Christian Ethics Tobias Winright, 2020-12-10 The T T Clark Handbook of Christian Ethics provides an ecumenical introduction to Christian ethics its sources methods and applications With contributions by theological ethicists known for their excellence in scholarship and teaching the essays in this volume offer fresh purchase on and an agenda for the discipline of Christian ethics in the 21st century The essays are organized in three sections following an introduction that presents the four font approach and elucidates why it is critically employed through these subsequent sections The first section explores the sources of Christian ethics including each of the four fonts scripture tradition experience and reason The second section examines fundamental or basic elements of Christian ethics and covers different methods approaches and voices in doing Christian ethics such as natural law virtue ethics conscience responsibility narrative worship and engagement with other religions The third section Reenvisioning Christian Ethics Darryl W. Stephens, 2020-12-29 Christian ethics is a wide and varied field so diverse are the methods and approaches theological perspectives and starting points and scopes of inquiry and purposes dare we even call it a discipline that the field is rarely considered as a whole Christian ethics includes historical descriptive critical constructive and applied projects on countless topics Lending creative energy to this field of study are a range of partner disciplines including most prominently theology philosophy and sociology each containing multiple schools themselves To envision the entire field of Christian ethics is a difficult task to reenvision the entire field may perhaps be impossible for one person Thus this publication includes original research by multiple scholars each offering a distinct perspective from their primary partner discipline Chapters include Roman Catholic and Protestant voices from Europe Asia and North America In aggregate these writings contribute to a composite reenvisioning of Christian ethics refracting our collective vision through the prisms of diverse academic and methodological perspectives in this vast field of inquiry study and practice History of Christian Ethics Christoph Ernst Luthardt, 1889 The Groundwork of a System of Evangelical Lutheran Theology Samuel Sprecher, 1879 Choosing the Good Dennis P.
