Sourcebook For Teachers On Writing:

The Writing Teacher's Sourcebook Edward P. J. Corbett, Nancy Myers, Gary Tate, 2000 Now in its fourth edition this widely acclaimed sourcebook remains one of the most up to date and inclusive works on teaching writing today. In this edition the editors have added twelve new essays and deleted several from the previous edition making the content as timely as possible. Emphasizing the importance of adapting good pedagogy to multiple environments and audiences this unique collection features some of the most intellectually exciting and pedagogically sound articles in the field. The Writing Teacher's Sourcebook 4/e is the definitive resource for beginning and experienced teachers alike.

Teaching Writing as a Process Rhetoric and Composition

Thomas N. Kluwin, Kate Tobin, Gallaudet Research Institute (Washington, D.C.), 1989 Richard Layton Graves, 1984 The Writing Teacher's Sourcebook Gary Tate, Edward P. J. Corbett, 1988 The new edition of this popular collection of essays on the teaching of college composition remains the most up to date and inclusive book in its field. In this edition two thirds of the essays are new and the book has been reorganized into ten sections each on a topic typically covered in courses. Bibliographies at the end of every section and a revised list of books on writing and the teaching of writing offer suggestions for important related reading. Gathering some of the most intellectually exciting and pedagogically sound articles currently published this book is an indispensable reference for beginning and experienced teachers alike.

The Allyn & Bacon Sourcebook for College Writing Teachers James C. McDonald, 2000 Designed for college writing teachers who are faced with teaching composition for the first time or re-examining their teaching goals and methods. The Allyn & Bacon Sourcebook for College Writing Teachers is a collection of writings on important theories and pedagogies in composition studies. The selections discuss a range of theories and approaches to teaching writing and present readers with a number of options for instruction rather than a single way to teach. Written by some of today's foremost scholars and teachers the articles range from discussing how to integrate critical thinking and reading into writing instruction to methods for responding to and evaluating student writing to dealing with grammar and editing. For those who teach writing.

Those who Do, Can Robert L. Root, Michael Steinberg, 1996 A writing instructor's handbook emphasizing the pedagogical necessity for teachers to practice their craft in conjunction with teaching it. Based on a series of workshops held in Traverse Bay Michigan the volume features exercises and examples to prompt the creative writing process, wiring the experiences to classroom application and suggesting practical approaches to subject matter content, grammar and integrating media into the writing instruction mix.
