The How And Why Of Creation:

Creation and Contingency in Early Patristic Thought Joseph Torchia, OP, 2019-04-10 Creation and Contingency in Early Patristic Thought The Beginning of All Things explores the interface between philosophy and theology in the development of the seminal Christian doctrine of creation ex nihilo While its main focus lies in an analysis of first to third century patristic accounts of creation it is likewise attuned to their parallelism with Middle Platonic commentaries on Plato's theory of cosmological origins in the Timaeus Just as Christian thinkers sounded out the theological implications of Gn 1 1 2 the successors to Plato's Academy debated the significance of his teaching Tim 28b that the world came to be The fact that both Genesis and the Timaeus address the beginning of all things served as a means of bridging the conceptual gap between the Greek philosophical tradition and a Christian perspective rooted in scriptural teaching Plato's Timaeus and the doxographies it inspired thus provided early Fathers of the Church with the dialectical resources for explicating their distinctive understanding of creation as a bringing into being from nothing

Common Christianity / Uncommon Commentary Bob Walters, 2011-11-28 This book is a compilation of five years of weekly Christian newspaper columns with thoughtful and often wry reflections on Christianity, Christian life and modern culture. Written by late to the faith journalist and communications executive Bob Walters, the columns have been published in the weekly Current local general interest newspapers in Carmel, Westfield, Noblesville and Fishers, Indiana on the northside of Indianapolis since the paper's founding in October 2006. It's uncommon for a newspaper to provide this kind of direct believer's commentary on common Christian themes, hence the title Common Christianity / Uncommon Commentary. Foreword by Dr. David Faust, President, Cincinnati Christian University.

Why Mary Matters Kristofer Carlson, 2015-02-14 The Virgin Mary is more than just a bit player in the Christmas Pageant. However, if you are indisposed towards the Virgin Mary, perhaps no amount of evidence will change your mind. After all, any number of people have used Sacred Scripture to devise any number of different theological systems, each internally coherent and with great explanatory power. Despite this, one of the unique things about human consciousness is our ability to step outside ourselves to see things from another perspective and to change our minds. I ask you to examine the evidence and to examine the views of people you might normally discard out of hand. If you make the effort, even if you remain unconvinced, you will nonetheless find the process spiritually rewarding.
