Axelrod, Warren Burgess, 1983 Cichlid Fishes M.H. Keenleyside, 1991-05-31 The cichlid fishes are an important group being widely used in scientific research and as popular fish with aquarists This group contains mainly small species which adjust quickly to captivity exhibiting a readiness to breed and long periods of parental care for the young This books comprehensive volume describes the current knowledge on the behaviour and ecology of the cichlid fishes Lake Tanganyika Cichlids Frank Schneidewind, 2001-09 The Behavior, Ecology and Evolution of Cichlid Fishes Maria E. Abate, David L.G. Noakes, 2021-09-19 This volume constitutes the most recent and most comprehensive consideration of the largest family of bony fishes the Cichlidae This book offers an integrated perspective of cichlid fishes ranging from conservation of threatened species to management of cichlids as invasive species themselves Long standing models of taxonomy and systematics are subjected to the most recent applications and interpretations of molecular evidence and multivariate analyses and cichlid adaptive radiations at different scales are elucidated The incredible diversity of endemic cichlid species in African lakes is revisited as possible examples of sympatric speciation and as serious cases for management in complex anthropogenic environments Extreme hydrology and bathymetry as driver of micro allopatric speciation is explored in the African riverine hotspot of diversity of the lower Congo River Dramatic new molecular evidence draws attention to the complex taxonomy and systematics of Neotropical cichlids including the crater lakes of Central America Molecular genetics genomics imaging tools and field study techniques assess the roles of natural sexual and kin selection in shaping cichlid traits and beyond The complex behavioral adaptations of cichlids are considered from a number of sub disciplines including sensory biology neurobiology development and evolutionary ecology Most importantly this volume puts forth a wealth of new interpretations explanatory hypotheses and proposals for practical management and applications that will shape the future for these remarkable fishes in nature as well as their use as models for the study of biology African Cichlids of Lake Tanganyika David E. Boruchowitz, 1996-08-27 Cichlid Fishes from Lake Tanganyika Reeve Maclaren Bailey, Donald J. Stewart, 1977 Patterns and Processes of Speciation in Ancient Lakes Thomas Wilke, Risto Väinölä, Frank Riedel, 2009-04-02 Ancient lakes are exceptional freshwater environments that have continued to exist for hundreds of thousands of years They have long been recognized as centres of biodiversity and hotspots of evolution During recent decades speciation in ancient lakes has emerged as an important and exciting topic in evolutionary biology The contributions in this volume deal with patterns and processes of biological diversification in three prominent ancient lake systems Of these the famous East African Great Lakes already have a strong tradition of evolutionary studies but the two other systems have so far received much less attention The exceptional biodiversity of the European sister lakes Ohrid and Prespa of the Balkans has long been known but has largely been neglected in the international literature until recently The rich biota and problems of its evolution in the two central lake systems on the Indonesian island of Sulawesi in turn have only lately started to draw scientific attention This volume aims at deepening the awareness of the unusual biological diversity in ancient lakes in general and of the role of these lakes as natural laboratories for the study of speciation and diversification in particular It should stimulate further research that will lead to a better understanding of key evolutionary processes in these lakes and to knowledge that might help in mitigating the deterioration of their diversity in the future Lake Tanganyika
