Integrating Food into Urban Planning Yves Cabannes, Cecilia Marocchino, 2018-11-22 The integration of food into urban planning is a crucial and emerging topic Urban planners alongside the local and regional authorities that have traditionally been less engaged in food related issues are now asked to take a central and active part in understanding how food is produced processed packaged transported marketed consumed disposed of and recycled in our cities While there is a growing body of literature on the topic the issue of planning cities in such a way they will increase food security and nutrition not only for the affluent sections of society but primarily for the poor is much less discussed and much less informed by practices This volume a collaboration between the Bartlett Development Planning Unit at UCL and the Food Agricultural Organisation aims to fill this gap by putting more than 20 city based experiences in perspective including studies from Toronto New York City Portland and Providence in North America Milan in Europe and Cape Town in Africa Belo Horizonte and Lima in South America and in Asia Bangkok and Tokyo By studying and comparing cities of different sizes from both the Global North and South in developed and developing regions the contributors collectively argue for the importance and circulation of global knowledge rooted in local food planning practices programmes and policies

Food Trucks, Cultural Identity, and Social Justice Julian Agyeman, Caitlin Matthews, Hannah Sobel, 2017-09-08 Aspects of the urban food truck phenomenon including community economic development regulatory issues and clashes between ethnic authenticity and local sustainability The food truck on the corner could be a brightly painted old style lonchera offering tacos or an upscale mobile vendor serving lobster rolls Customers range from gastro tourists to construction workers all eager for food that is delicious authentic and relatively inexpensive Although some cities that host food trucks encourage their proliferation others throw up regulatory roadblocks This book examines the food truck phenomenon in North American cities from Los Angeles to Montreal taking a novel perspective social justice It considers the motivating factors behind a city s promotion or restriction of mobile food vending and how these motivations might connect to or impede broad goals of social justice The contributors investigate the discriminatory implementation of rules with gentrified hipsters often receiving preferential treatment over traditional immigrants food trucks as part of community economic development and food trucks role in cultural identity formation They describe among other things mobile food vending in Portland Oregon where relaxed permitting encourages street food the criminalization of food trucks by Los Angeles and New York City health codes food as cultural currency in Montreal social and spatial bifurcation of food trucks in Chicago and Durham North Carolina and food trucks as a part of Vancouver Canada s self branding as the Greenest City Contributors Julian Agyeman Sean Basinski Jennifer Clark Ana Croegaert Kathleen Dunn Renia Ehrenfeucht Emma French Matthew Gebhardt Phoebe Godfrey Amy Hanser Robert Lemon Nina Martin Caitlin Matthews Nathan McClintock Alfonso Morales Alan Nash Katherine Alexandra Newman Lenore Lauri Newman Alex Novie Matthew Shapiro Hannah Sobel Mark Vallianatos Ginette Wessel Edward Whittall Mackenzie Wood
