Tempest Sunshine The Lamplighter:

Tempest and sunshine Mary J. Holmes, Donald A. Koch, 1968 A Mirror for History Marc Egnal, 2024-04-19 In A Mirror for History author Marc Egnal uses novels and art to provide a new understanding of American society. The book argues that the arc of middle class culture reflects the evolution of the American economy from the near subsistence agriculture of the 1750s to the extraordinarily unequal society of the twenty first century. Fiction offers a rich source for this analysis. By delving deep into the souls of characters and their complex worlds, novels shed light on the dreams, hopes, and goals of individuals and reveal the structures that shape character's lives. Additionally, paintings of the time periods expand upon these insights drawn from literature. Egnal's lively exploration of the changing economy, fiction, art, and American values is organized into four expansive periods: the Sentimental Era, Genteel America, Modern Society, and Post Modern America. Within that framework, A Mirror for History looks at topics such as masculinity, childhood, the status of women, the outlook of African Americans, the role of religion, and varying views of capitalism. Readers will be enthralled to find discussions of overlooked novels and paintings as well as discover new approaches to familiar pieces. A Mirror for History examines over one hundred authors and dozens of artists, and their works presented here in full color.

Womanhood in Anglophone Literary Culture Robin Hammerman, 2009-03-26 Taken together, the fourteen essays in this collection contribute to the discourse of social conditions for literary women. The essays examine relevant social, intellectual, and professional questions about the ways in which women writers contributed to conceptions of womanhood in nineteenth and twentieth century Anglophone literary culture. Contributors to this collection describe and examine several nineteenth and twentieth century women writers' responses to patriarchal assumptions about literary merit in genres including poetry and fiction. Womanhood in Anglophone Literary Culture: Nineteenth and Twentieth Century Perspectives will be of special interest to students and faculty of women's studies and literature written in the English language.

To Kiss the Chastening Rod Geoffrey M. Goshgarian, 2019-04-15 Examining ideas about masturbation, female sexuality, the family, and post-Calvinist religion that shaped the readership of popular women's fiction, To Kiss the Chastening Rod shows that passionlessness was the privileged theme of a pervasive discourse which sought to exert social control through the rigorous repression, minute supervision, and covert cultivation of sexuality.

The Commodity Culture of Victorian England Thomas Richards, 1990 This provocative and theoretically sophisticated book reveals how capitalism produced and sustained a culture of its own in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. Richards provides a valuable account of the interaction between cultural and business development in Victorian England by focusing on the evolution of advertising. Through an examination of five case studies ranging from how advertisers employed images of the Crystal Palace Exhibition of 1851 to their use of images of women just before WWI, he argues that the British developed a new type of culture in the mid and late 19th century, a new way of thinking and living increasingly based upon the possession of material goods, commodities. Revising the findings of some earlier scholars Richards shows that cultural forms of consumerism came into being well before the consumer economy did. The 50 well reproduced advertising images greatly enhance the value of this study. M Blackford Choice American Women's Fiction, 1790-1870 Barbara A. White, 2013-05-07 An annotated bibliography on women who wrote fiction in the US during the period 1790-1870. The first part is an annotated list of sources that discuss women's fiction in the period and women authors born before 1840 who published before 1870. The second part is an alphabetical list of the approximately 325 19th century writers who meet those criteria. There are indexes by pseudonym, editor, and subject. The sources provide information not only about the individual authors but also about the history of criticism and literary politics, especially women's place in the American literary canon. Henry James and the 'Woman Business' Alfred Habegger, 2004-08-26 This is a historical critique of Henry James in relation to nineteenth century feminism and women's fiction. Habegger has brought to light extensive new documentation on James's tangled connections with what was thought and written about women in his time. The emphasis is equally on his life and on his fictions. This is the first book to investigate his father's bizarre lifelong struggle with free love and feminism, a struggle that played a major role in shaping James. The book also shows how seriously he distorted the truth about the cousin Minnie Temple, whose self-assertive image inspired him, and how indebted he was to certain American women writers whom he attacked in reviews but whose plots and heroines he appropriated in his own fiction. Nineteenth Century Literature Criticism Kathy D. Darrow, Russel Whitaker, 2007-08 A convenient source of critical commentary on the careers and works of acclaimed authors who died between 1800 and 1899. A cumulative title index is published separately. Included in subscription. The Portrayal of Woman's Sentimental Power in American Domestic Fiction Earl Frank Yarrington, 2007 This book explores the rediscovery of the fiction written by Mary Jane Holmes, 1825-1907, and examines the contrasting factors that made her work popular in the nineteenth century but virtually unknown during the twentieth century. Cultural poetics and feminism, which established a critique on how late nineteenth and twentieth century critics decontextualized Holmes' work, is the critical emphasis of this study. The theory of this study examines aspects of relational capacity that popular women writers present and that which their works are based on and which enables them to relate to their culture and readers. Report Kansas City (Mo.). Board of Education, 1887 Private Woman, Public Stage Mary Kelley, 2017-11-01 In the decades spanning the nineteenth century, thousands of women entered the literary marketplace. Twelve of the century's most successful women writers provide the focus for Mary Kelley's landmark study: Maria Cummins, Caroline Howard Gilman, Caroline Lee Hentz, Mary Jane Holmes, Maria McIntosh, Sara Parton, Catharine Maria Sedgwick, E. D. E. N. Southworth, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Mary Virginia Terhune, Susan Warner, and Augusta Evans Wilson. These women shared more than commercial success. Collectively, they created fictions that Kelley terms literary domesticity books that both embraced and called into question the complicated expectations shaping the lives of so many nineteenth century women. Matured in a culture of domesticity and dismissed by a male writing establishment, they struggled to reconcile public recognition with the traditional roles of wife and mother Drawing on the 200 volumes of published prose and on the letters diaries and journals of these writers Kelley explores the tensions that accompanied their unprecedented literary success In a new preface she discusses the explosion in the scholarship on writing women since the original 1984 publication of Private Woman Public Stage and reflects on the book's ongoing relevance Nineteenth-Century Women Writers of the English-Speaking World Hofstra University, 1986-11-12 Women in the nineteenth century wrote prolifically and memorably The original and provocative essays in this collection address a variety of aspects of the life and literature of nineteenth century writers of distinction who happened to be women and sometimes wrote from a women's point of view but who always reflected the world in which they lived The majority of the contributions are devoted to detailed analysis of the themes in the literature itself primarily in the areas of intellectual conditioning male female relationships social imperatives and spiritual questions The collection as a whole provides a framework for twentieth century readers so that they may draw instructive conclusions about women's lives in the previous century Library Journal, 1889 Library Journal Melvil Dewey, Richard Rogers Bowker, L. Pylodet, Charles Ammi Cutter, Bertine Emma Weston, Karl Brown, Helen E. Wessells, 1889 Includes beginning Sept 15 1954 and on the 15th of each month Sept May a special section School library journal ISSN 0000 0035 called Junior libraries 1954 May 1961 Also issued separately Large Promises Thomas Karr Richards, 1986 Concise Histories of American Popular Culture M.
