Making Kantha, Making Home Pika Ghosh,2020-07-15 In Bengal mothers swaddle their infants and cover their beds in colorful textiles that are passed down through generations They create these kantha from layers of soft recycled fabric strengthened with running stiches and use them as shawls covers and seating mats Making Kantha Making Home explores the social worlds shaped by the Bengali kantha that survive from the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries In the first study of colonial period women s embroidery that situates these objects historically and socially Pika Ghosh brings technique and aesthetic choices into discussion with iconography and regional culture Ghosh uses ethnographic and archival research inscriptions and images to locate embroiderers work within domestic networks and to show how imagery from poetry drama prints and watercolors expresses kantha artists visual literacy Affinities with older textile practices include the region s lucrative maritime trade in embroideries with Europe Africa and China This appraisal of individual objects alongside the people and stories behind the objects creation elevates kantha beyond consideration as mere handcraft to recognition as art The Scattered Court Richard David Williams,2023-04-25 Presents a new history of how Hindustani court music responded to the political transitions of the nineteenth century How far did colonialism transform north Indian music In the period between the Mughal empire and the British Raj how did the political landscape bleed into aesthetics music dance and poetry Examining musical culture through a diverse and multilingual archive primarily using sources in Urdu Bengali and Hindi that have not been translated or critically examined before The Scattered Court challenges our assumptions about the period Richard David Williams presents a long history of interactions between northern India and Bengal with a core focus on the two courts of Wajid Ali Shah 1822 1887 the last ruler of the kingdom of Awadh He charts the movement of musicians and dancers between the two courts in Lucknow and Matiyaburj as well as the transregional circulation of intellectual traditions and musical genres and demonstrates the importance of the exile period for the rise of Calcutta as a celebrated center of Hindustani classical music Since Lucknow is associated with late Mughal or Nawabi society and Calcutta with colonial modernity examining the relationship between the two cities sheds light on forms of continuity and transition over the nineteenth century as artists and their patrons navigated political ruptures and social transformations The Scattered Court challenges the existing historiography of Hindustani music and Indian culture under colonialism by arguing that our focus on Anglophone sources and modernizing impulses has directed us away from the aesthetic subtleties historical continuities and emotional dimensions of nineteenth century music The Art of Loving Krishna Cynthia Packert,2010-07-07 The vibrant tradition of Temple decoration in India The Hindu Temple and Its Sacred Landscape Himanshu Prabha

Ray,2023-05-30 The Hindu Temple and Its Sacred Landscape illustrates how careful attention to the Hindu temple its social history and cultural landscape allows us to better appreciate how Hinduism has been practised and lived throughout history The Hindu temple was not merely a place of worship or a static indicator of royal generosity but an institution that involved the active participation of the community for its establishment maintenance and survival Rather than studying temples as isolated structures The Hindu Temple and Its Sacred Landscape thus suggests that we need to examine them in the context of their social base and the sacred microcosms of which they form a part Through a combination of textual study archaeological evidence and insights from contemporary anthropology the book explores the diverse ways in which devotees patrons and visitors have engaged with temples shrines and their wider surroundings Drawing attention to the vibrancy of the Hindu temple in different locales The Hindu Temple and Its Sacred Landscape traces the ways in which Hindu notions of sanctity and sacredness were defined and redefined throughout history through the diversity of temple audiences deities and rituals The book thus allows us to form a more accurate picture of Hindu religious life in the past and the central role the temple has played in consolidating Hindu identity Kantha Darielle Mason,2009 This first book length study on kanthas published outside of South Asia focuses on two premier collections one assembled by the legendary historian of Indian art Dr Stella Kramrisch the other by Jill and Sheldon Bonovitz leading proponents of self taught art Created from worn out garments imaginatively embroidered by women with motifs and tales drawn from a rich regional repertoire kanthas traditionally were stitched as gifts for births weddings and other family occasions Innovative essays by leading scholars explore the domestic ritual and historical contexts of the fascinating quilts in these collections made between the mid 19th and mid 20th century in what is today Bangladesh and West Bengal India and trace their reinterpretation as emblems of national identity and works of art

Archaeology and Text Himanshu Prabha Ray,2010 What is a temple Who built or patronized such structures and why Temples have always formed a crucial element of the cultural landscape of South Asia Combining textual analysis archaeology and archival research with contemporary anthropology Archaeology and Text provides a stimulating appraisal of religious life in the past Through detailed case studies from regions like Karnataka Maharashtra Madhya Pradesh Rajasthan Bengal and Orissa the book examines both the religious architecture of the temples and the cultural practices surrounding them The essays underscore the importance of the temple in its interaction with diverse interest groups such as worshippers ritual specialists ascetics patrons artisans and others They also show how temples were not only expressions of political authority but also formed important centres of learning popular devotion and pilgrimage The volume explores the development of bhakti and ascetic traditions in the subcontinent in relation to temples It investigates the relationship between sacrificial rituals and devotional practices emergent religious cultures and older traditions and temples and renouncers The collection also questions the notion of boundaries surrounding religious traditions underlining the fact that present categories do not fit neatly in those of a bygone era The introduction provides a succinct account of sacred spaces as they came to be defined in archaeological records from the first millennium BCE onwards
