Temptation African American

Robert J. Stevens, Brian Johnson

Temptation African American:

The African American Odyssey Bilal R. Muhammad, 2011-12-05 The African American Odyssey is a literary compilation of a portrait combined with a strong compelling chronological history and discussion of the African American plight from an African American perspective. It also entails many significant aspects of African American struggles, achievements, and wondering about in a country that adamantly refuses to see African Americans. Propelled by enthusiasm, anguish, and deep concern for the magnitude of social and economic despaired conditions African Americans find themselves in today, the author is obsessed with confronting the pervasive challenges of systemic and institutionalized white supremacy, unjustified evil, racist oppression, suffering, and unnecessary social and economic misery perpetrated against African Americans by a hatefully hostile government determined to marginalize or exterminate them. Exasperatingly, Muhammad expressively takes the reader on a journey through centuries of convoluted wondering while illustrating to them the events that produced the African American experience. He conclusively shares his hope, skepticism, and cautious optimism for the future of African Americans.

Profiles of African-American Missionaries Robert J. Stevens, Brian Johnson, 2012-06-26 Profiles of African American Missionaries features the lives and ministries of the great African Americans who have gone to the world with the message of Christ. It is a collection of stories sharing the ministries of several African American missionary pioneers from the 1700s to the present, dealing with all the social and ministry issues that they had to face here and abroad. Readers will be inspired by the dedication and commitment of these great African Americans as they lived out God's great commission to go into all the world and make disciples of all people. It will inspire and challenge all readers to greater personal involvement in God's worldwide mission.

Condom Nation Alexandra M. Lord, 2010-01-01 An award-winning history of the U.S. Public Health Service's haphazard efforts to educate Americans about sex for more than a century. Since launching its first sex ed program during World War I, the Public Health Service has dominated federal sex education efforts. Alexandra M. Lord draws on medical research, news reports, the expansive records of the Public Health Service, and interviews with former surgeons general to examine these efforts from early initiatives through the administration of George W. Bush. Giving equal voice to many groups in America—middle class, working class, black, white, urban, rural, Christian, and non-Christian—scientist and theologian Lord explores how federal officials struggled to create sex education programs that balanced cultural and public health concerns. She details how the Public Health Service left an indelible mark on federally and privately funded sex education programs through partnerships and initiatives with community organizations, public schools, foundations, corporations, and religious groups. With engaging and insightful analysis, Lord explains how tensions among these organizations exacerbated existing controversies about sexual behavior. She also discusses why the Public Health Service's promotional tactics sometimes fueled public fears about the federal government's goals in promoting or not promoting sex education. Award for the Public Understanding of Science 2010, British Medical Association's Board of Science First Prize.
