Innocence, Knowledge, and the Construction of Childhood Kerry H. Robinson,2013 Innocence Knowledge and the Construction of Childhood provides a critical examination of the way we regulate children s access to certain knowledge and explores how this regulation contributes to the construction of childhood to children s vulnerability and to the constitution of the good future citizen in developed countries Through this controversial analysis Kerry H Robinson critically engages with the relationships between childhood sexuality innocence moral panic censorship and notions of citizenship This book highlights how the strict regulation of children s knowledge often in the name of protection or in the child s best interest can ironically increase children s prejudice around difference increase their vulnerability to exploitation and abuse and undermine their abilities to become competent adolescents and adults Within her work Robinson draws upon empirical research to provide an overview of the regulation and governance of children s access to difficult knowledge particularly knowledge of sexuality explore and develop Foucault s work on the relationship between childhood and sexuality identify the impact of these discourses on adults understanding of childhood and the tension that exists between their own perceptions of sexual knowledge and the perceptions of children reconceptualise children's education around sexuality. Innocence, Knowledge and the Construction of Childhood is essential reading for both undergraduate and postgraduate students undertaking courses in education, particularly with a focus on early childhood or primary teaching, as well as in other disciplines such as sociology, gender and sexuality studies and cultural studies.

Communication Perspectives on HIV/AIDS for the 21st Century Timothy Edgar, Seth M. Noar, Vicki S. Freimuth, 2009-04-09

Reflecting the current state of research into the communication aspects of HIV/AIDS, this volume explores AIDS related communication scholarship moving forward from the 1992 publication AIDS: A Communication Perspective. Editors Timothy Edgar, Seth M. Noar and Vicki S. Freimuth have developed this up to date collection to focus on today's key communication issues in the HIV/AIDS epidemic. Chapters herein examine the interplay of the messages individuals receive about AIDS at the public level as well as the messages exchanged between individuals at the interpersonal level. Acknowledging how the face of HIV/AIDS has changed since 1992, the volume promotes the perspective that an understanding of effective communication through both mediated and interpersonal channels is essential to winning the continued battle against AIDS. Issues addressed here include Social stigma associated with the disease, social support and those living with HIV/AIDS, and the current state of HIV testing. Parent child discussions surrounding HIV/AIDS and safer sexual behavior and cultural sensitivity relating to developing HIV prevention and sex education programs. The effectiveness of health campaigns to impact attitudes, norms and behavior as well as the current state of entertainment education and its ability to contribute to HIV prevention. News media coverage of HIV/AIDS and the impact of the agenda setting function on public opinion and policy making. Health literacy and its importance to the health and well being of those undergoing HIV treatment. The role of technological innovations, most notably the Internet, used for both prevention interventions as well as risky behavior. The volume also includes exemplars that showcase the diversity of approaches to health communication used to combat the HIV/AIDS epidemic. These cases include interpersonal and mass communication mediums traditional along with new media and technology research by academics and practitioners individual as well as community based approaches work based in the United States and internationally and campaigns directed at at risk HIV positive as well as general populations. With new topics, new contributors and a broadened scope, this book goes beyond a revision of the 1992 volume to reflect the current state of communication research on HIV/AIDS across key contexts. It is designed for academics, researchers, practitioners and students in health communication, health psychology and other areas of AIDS research. As a unique examination of communication research, it makes an indelible contribution to the growing knowledge base of communication approaches to combating HIV/AIDS.

Diversity and Difference in Childhood: Issues for Theory and Practice Kerry Robinson, Criss Jones-Diaz, 2017-01-16

Educators and community based professionals are often required to work with children and families from a range of diverse backgrounds. The second edition of this popular book goes beyond simplistic definitions of diversity encouraging a much broader understanding and helping childhood educators and community based professionals develop a critical disposition towards assumptions about children and childhood in relation to diversity difference and social justice As well as drawing on research the book gives an overview of relevant contemporary social theories including poststructuralism cultural studies critical theory postcolonialism critical race theory feminist perspectives and queer theory It interrogates practice and explores opportunities and strategies for creating a more equitable environment whilst covering key issues impacting on children s lives including globalization neoliberalism new racisms immigration Indigeneity refugees homophobia heterosexism and constructions of childhood Each chapter provides an overview of the area of discussion a focus on the implications for practice and recommended readings Providing insight into how social justice practices in childhood education and community based service delivery can make a real difference in the lives of children their families and communities this is key reading for early childhood and primary educators community based professionals university students and researchers This thoughtful topical book addresses a considerable range of diversity issues relevant to teacher educators their students and other professionals who work with children and their families within and beyond Australia This timely second edition draws on the authors longstanding teacher education experiences and their most recent research to revisit the challenges of diversity and difference in children s lives Dr Valerie N Podmore former associate professor Faculty of Education and Social Work the University of Auckland New Zealand The second edition of Robinson and Jones D az s Diversity and Difference in Childhood is a thoroughly welcome addition to my list of key texts for students of early childhood and childhood studies It provides a means from the outset for educating undergraduate students from within critical postmodern and post structural perspectives thus orienting their views of and actions within their future professions towards critical and equitable practices that value difference rather than treat is as a problem to be solved Alexandra C Gunn Associate Dean Teacher Education University of Otago College of Education New Zealand This is the 21st century early childhood education text Diversity and Difference in Childhood provides early childhood educators and scholars a powerful space for asking social justice questions in a profoundly innovative way Veronica Pacini Ketchabaw Ph D Professor School of Child and Youth Care University of Victoria Canada This new edition of Diversity and Difference is both important and timely Readers will find the new theoretical resources and additional chapters that have been included give the book a sense of enhanced rigour and its depth and breadth of coverage make it an ideal resource for a wide variety of interests and perspectives Christine Woodrow Associate Professor and Senior Researcher the Centre for Educational Research Western Sydney University Australia Introducing the New Sexuality Studies Nancy L. Fischer, Laurel Westbrook, Steven Seidman, 2022-06-07 Introducing the New Sexuality Studies Original Essays is an innovative reader friendly collection of essays that introduces the field of sexuality studies to undergraduate students Examining the social cultural and historical dimensions of sexuality this collection is designed to serve as a comprehensive yet accessible textbook for sexuality courses at the undergraduate level. The fourth edition adds 51 new essays whilst retaining 33 of the most popular essays from previous editions. It features perspectives that are intersectional, transnational, sex positive and attentive to historically marginalized groups along multiple axes of inequality including gender, race, class, ability, body size, religious identity, age and of course, sexuality. Essays explore how a wide variety of social institutions including medicine, religion, the state and education shape sexual desires, behaviors and identities. Sources of and empirical research on oppression are discussed along with modes of resistance, activism and policy change. The fourth edition also adds new user friendly features for students and instructors. Keywords are italicized and defined and each chapter concludes with review questions to help students ascertain their comprehension of key points. There is also an online annotated table of contents to help readers identify key ideas and concepts at a glance for each chapter.

Feminists Researching Gendered

Childhoods Jayne Osgood, Kerry H. Robinson, 2019-02-21. Feminists Researching Gendered Childhoods charts the evolving nature of feminist theory and research methods in childhood studies and the generative potential this holds for researchers, academics and educators to continue to push ideas and practices. The book traces the threads of affect and effect that feminist theories and methodologies have made over time to thinking more and differently about gender in childhood. In the wake of the new materialist turn in feminist research the book sought to address two pressing questions: what is especially new about feminist new materialism and what is especially feminist about feminist new materialism. These questions are generative, troubling, unsettling and invited the contributors on an adventure that involved re-thinking and reconfiguring ideas and practices about gender and childhood. Along with the editors Jayne Osgood (UK) and Kerry H. Robinson (Australia) five key international feminist scholars Mindy Blaise (Australia), Bronwyn Davies (Australia), Debbie Epstein (UK), Jen Lyttleton Smith (UK) and Veronica Pacini Ketchabaw (Canada) collaborated on this book project. Their reflective accounts capture the contribution of their own work and that of their peers to advancing research practices and theorisations of gender in childhood. Having all approached the study of gendered childhoods in creative and critical ways these important feminist researchers re-engage and critically reflect on their earlier work alongside their more contemporary contributions to the field. The book is as much about the processes involved in its creation as it is about the material, digital end product. The chapters work with both familiar and unfamiliar feminist methodological frameworks that bring affect, materiality and embodiment as well as textual representations of gender and childhood into play. The book engages with and generates artwork, poetry, photographs as a means to grapple with how gender, childhood, family, curriculum and policy have been and might be researched. The book captures a lively collaborative feminist experiment that sought to make space for fresh conceptualisations of gender in childhood. Issues addressed include social justice and transformative methodologies in childhood research, advancing theoretical perspectives that contribute to fresh understandings of gender in young children's lives, the ways that research into gender in childhood play out in educational agendas and the specific gender issues perceived as critical to address in

The Catechism Explained Francis Spirago,1899 This Catechism is divided into three parts The first part treats of faith the second of morals the third of the means of grace In the first part Our Lord appears in His character of Teacher in the second in His character of King and in the third in His character of High Priest And since this Catechism proposes as its primary object to answer the question for what purpose are we here upon earth thereby emphasizing and giving prominence to man s high calling and destiny it is especially suited to the present day when the pursuit of material interests self indulgence and pleasure engrosses the attention of so many This Catechism is in fact nothing more nor less than an abstract of Our Lord s teaching and may be called a guide book for the Christian on the road to heaven Preface
