The Ghost Child:

The Ghost Child Emma Tennant, 1984 The Ghost's Child Sonya Hartnett, 2011-05-24 This is a romantic tale about a young girl's love for a boy named Feather. At the beginning Maddy comes home to find a teenage boy sitting in her living room. She does not know him but tells the boy the story of her life and her life with Feather. At the story's end we find the boy is Maddy's unborn child and she is dead. Ages 13. Winner of Children's Book Council of Australia Awards Book of the Year Older Readers 2008. Shortlisted for Commonwealth Writers Prize Best Book SE Asia and South Pacific 2008 The Ghost Child Joan Bognuda, 1979 Harvey Angell and the Ghost Child Diana Hendry, 2002-03 Orphan Henry's dream to see the ocean finally comes true when his Aunt Agatha takes him on a seaside vacation. On the first night he hears moaning and groaning coming from inside Sibbald House where they were staying. He calls Harvey Angell to help him uncover the shocking secret of Sibbald House Ghost Child Patricia Mason, 2021-11-08 The lush majestic mountains of Western Pennsylvania are ever changing. Fog, mist, glorious sunrise, sunset, and tumultuous storms set the patterns of continuity. The mountains are as old as time. As one looks down from the top, a panorama of contrast is evident. Dense forest, hard-won fields with herds of cattle, and farms dot the landscape where agriculture is possible. Small villages are scattered, containing poverty, wealth, and somewhere in between. Years of persistence created tradition and community. The mountains harbored a truly evil man. His life was ruled by rage and destruction and created terror in those who crossed his path. The ghost child knew with certainty that he was a monster. No name was given to her. She was shunned. Her mother died giving birth to her and was erased from the family Bible. The child was born out of wedlock and was made to pay for the sins of her mother. Her sentence of isolation and servitude was not handed down by her community or its rules and practices but by that one vicious violent man. A steady, determined spark of life lived within the ghost child. She survived, she listened, and learned. She vowed to escape the monster. She didn't know what awaited her but even the possibility of death could not dissuade her. She escaped. She lived. She named herself Sarah. She became real The Ghost Children Eve Bunting, 2005 Matt's investigation of vandalism of life-sized dolls belonging to the strange but well-meaning aunt with whom he and his sister live takes him to the art world of Los Angeles Harvey Angell and the Ghost Child Diana Hendry, 2002-03-01 When Henry's Aunt Agatha invites her boarders to come along on a summer vacation, Henry discovers a secret bedroom in their rented house in a Scottish fishing village and asks Harvey Angell for help in finding the ghost of a girl who seems to be haunting Ghost child Terhi Ekebom, 2013 The Cultural Construction of Monstrous Children Simon Bacon, Leo Ruickbie, 2020-09-30 The Cultural Construction of Monstrous Children raises important questions at the heart of society and culture and through an interdisciplinary trans-cultural analysis presents important findings on socio-cultural representations and embodiments of the child and childhood. At the start of the 21st new anxieties constellate around the child and childhood while older concerns have re-emerged, mutated, and grown stronger. But as historical analysis shows, they have been ever-present concerns. This innovative and interdisciplinary collection of essays considers examples of monstrous children since the 16th century to the present spanning real life and popular culture to exhibit the manifestation of the Western cultural anxiety around the problematic anomalous child as naughty dangerous or just plain evil The book takes an inter and multidisciplinary approach drawing upon fields as diverse as sociology psychology film and literature to study the role of the child and childhood within contemporary Western culture and to see the historic ways in which each discipline intersects and influences the other
