The Vermont Historical Gazetteer: Franklin, Grand Isle, Lamoille and Orange counties. Including also the natural history of Chittenden County and index to volume 1 ,1871      Forgotten Paths Beth Schiemer,2007-07 Life is full of possibilities for recent college graduate Autumn Hummel But the path she expected to take after school turns in a different direction when she receives a mysterious letter Jon McFarland a man Autumn has never met has left her his South Carolina plantation near Georgetown her childhood vacationing spot Autumn chooses to accept the inheritance and moves into the sprawling Southern mansion where she meets the house's loveable staff There's Fanny the middle aged gardener whose family has worked at the McFarland plantation for generations and Ian the maintenance man who moved from the North to embrace a slower pace of life But it s Autumn s handsome next door neighbor Boyd Masters who captures her attention Yet the beauty and charisma of Autumn s new life soon fade as one mystery after another emerges the most important being why McFarland left her the plantation in the first place As Autumn researches the connection she begins to revisit her summer vacation memories and soon realizes that before she can pursue a happy future she must deal with her painful past Saints Herald ,1890 Vision ,1890 Memory as Space Jennifer Jean Day,2001 This dissertation treats the oeuvres of Vladimir Nabokov 1899 1977 and Iosif Brodskij 1940 96 in the context of the important literary and cultural traditions of the city of St Petersburg referred to here as the Petersburg Theme Petersburg has always been a city where the written word plays a particularly strong role in shaping the daily lives and consciousness of its inhabitants The Petersburg writer can thus be said to create his city in an ongoing continuation of the work of its strong willed founder Peter the Great Both natives of St Petersburg Leningrad Nabokov and Brodskij were each forced to leave the city and to re establish their lives and careers in permanent emigration and in a different language Despite their physical removal from Russia and despite the city s own struggles to retain its identity during cataclysmic social and political changes in the twentieth century each writer continued to rely upon a clearly defined Petersburg aesthetic in his works Using selections from Nabokov s poetry short stories and novels and from Brodskij s poetry and essays this study focuses on the city of Petersburg as both an image with a very specific set of spatial attributes and also as a memory which activates these writers Creative consciousness The city with all its negative and positive attributes continues to influence the way they think and write as in turn these authors continue to create Petersburg although they are far removed from the city space itself Each writer develops in a significant way the trajectory of the Petersburg Theme in the twentieth century confirming that the city is as much a mental and creative construct as it is a physically Perceptible space Specifically for Nabokov Petersburg space is related to the powers of a transcendent creative consciousness while for Brodskij Petersburg space is the source of his poetic strategy of negative presence Thus the city not only functions as an image in their works but also underlies their creative vision as a whole Leaf vii viii Kindergarten Review ,1896 The British Architect ,1874
