Tall Short:

Tall Short Everett Sinclair, AI, 2025-03-06 Tall Short explores the fascinating science and engineering behind verticality examining how both nature and architecture achieve impressive heights. The book bridges biology, engineering and architectural design to answer a fundamental question: how is height achieved and sustained? It reveals that structures, whether organic like redwood trees or man-made like skyscrapers, adhere to shared physical laws. For instance, the book highlights how evolutionary pressures drive height in nature for resource acquisition, much like structural innovations enable taller buildings. The book begins by establishing a foundation in biomechanics and structural engineering, explaining load-bearing tension and compression. It then transitions to analyzing historical progressions of skyscrapers and evolutionary drivers in nature. A key insight is the application of biomimicry where nature inspires sustainable architectural solutions. Through diagrams, case studies, and comparative analyses, Tall Short offers a unique integrated perspective revealing common ground between the natural and built environments and appealing to students, architects, engineers, scientists, and design enthusiasts.

The Tall Short Stories of... James Endeacott, 2020-06-01 James Endeacott is the teller of many tales. The Tall Short Stories of James Endeacott range from psychedelic experiences when he was in the band Loop to making dreams come true as a judge on The X Factor or looking after The Libertines at the beginning of their musical career and hanging out with Robert De Niro lookalikes in New York with The Strokes.

Special Subset Linguistic Topological Spaces W. B. Vasantham Kandasamy, Ilanthenral K., Florentin Smarandache, In this book, authors for the first time introduce the new notion of special subset linguistic topological spaces using linguistic square matrices. This book is organized into three chapters. Chapter One supplies the reader with the concept of linguistic set, linguistic variable, linguistic continuum, etc. Specific basic linguistic algebraic structures like linguistic semigroup, linguistic monoid, etc. are introduced. Also, algebraic structures to linguistic square matrices are defined and described with examples. For the first time, non-commutative linguistic topological spaces are introduced. The notion of a linguistic special subset of doubly non-commutative topological spaces of linguistic topological spaces is introduced in this book.
