Epitome of the World's History: Modern

Edgar Sanderson,1891 A Cultural History of the Disney Fairy Tale Tracey L. Mollet,2020-11-21 This book charts the complex history of the relationship between the Disney fairy tale and the American Dream demonstrating the ways in which the Disney fairy tale has been reconstructed and renegotiated alongside and in response to important changes within American society In all of its fairy tales of the twentieth and twenty first centuries the Walt Disney studios works to sell its audiences the national myth of the United States at any one historical moment With analyses of films and television programmes such as The Little Mermaid 1989 Frozen 2013 Beauty and the Beast 2017 and Once Upon a Time 2011 2018 Mollet argues that by giving its fairy tale protagonists characteristics associated with good Americans and even by situating their fairy tales within America itself Disney constructs a vision of America as a utopian space

Barney,1994-01-01 The essays in this book like all other texts have been written in a historical context that shapes both the themes and the prose styles of the authors A close reading of these texts would in fact lead to many overlapping contexts of politics social hierarchies modern communications and international relations but we want to focus briefly on two contextual influences that carry the most obvious connections to this book the wide ranging public debate about the proper curriculum for American schools and universities and the more specific debate among historians about new trends in historical scholarship

A History of Ottoman Poetry Elias John Wilkinson Gibb, 1900

Elias John Wilkinson Gibb 1857-1901 was a Scottish Orientalist who was born and educated in Glasgow. After studying Arabic and Persian, he developed an interest in Turkish language and literature, especially poetry, and in 1882 he published Ottoman Poems Translated into English Verse in the Original Forms. This was a forerunner to the six volume classic presented here. A History of Ottoman Poetry published in London between 1900 and 1909. Gibb died in London of scarlet fever at the age of 44, and only the first volume of his masterpiece appeared before his death. His family entrusted it to his friend Edward Granville Browne (1862-1926), a distinguished Orientalist in his own right who had made a special study of Babism, the task of posthumously publishing the five remaining volumes. Browne characterized the work as one of the most important, if not the most important, critical studies of any Muhammadan literature produced in Europe during the last half century. The first volume contains a long and compelling introduction by Gibb on the entire subject in which he argues that Ottoman poetry often rose and fell in tandem with Ottoman power. Gibb divides Ottoman poetry into two great schools: the Old or Asiatic (circa 1300-1859), which generally was characterized by its deference to Persian influences, and the New or European (from 1859 onward), which was influenced by French and other Western poetry. According to Gibb, the Old or Asiatic School went through four periods: a formative period (1300-1450), a period (1450-1600) in which works were modeled after the Persian poet Jami, a period (1600-1700) dominated by the influences of Persian poets Urfi Shirazi and Sa'ib Tabrizi, and a period of uncertainty that lasted until 1859. The European school that followed was inaugurated by Ibrahim Sinasi (1826-71), who in 1859 produced a small but momentous collection of French poetry translated into Turkish verse. The influence of the collection was far-reaching and eventually changed the course of Ottoman poetry Gibb is known for his masterful translations that brilliantly render into English both the meaning and the form of Ottoman Persian and Arabic poetry For almost a century after his death a family trust financed the Gibb Memorial Series of editions and translations into English of Arabic Persian and Turkish texts    History of Woman Suffrage Elizabeth Cady Stanton,Susan Brownell Anthony,Matilda Joslyn Gage,Ida Husted Harper,1886    Tales and Stories from History Agnes Strickland,1870    Bulletin of the Natural History Society of New Brunswick Natural History Society of New Brunswick,1898    Centennial History of the United States Benson John Lossing,1875    A dictionary of the English language: together with a history of the language, and an English grammar.
