Temples And Fields:

Temples and Sanctuaries in the Roman East Arthur Segal, 2013-10-31 This lavishly illustrated volume presents a comprehensive architectural study of 87 individual temples and sanctuaries built in the Roman East between the end of the 1st century BCE and the end of the 3rd century CE within a broad region encompassing the modern states of Syria Lebanon Israel and Jordan Religious architecture gave faithful expression to the complexity of the Roman East and to its multiplicity of traditions pertaining to ethnic and religious aspects as well as to the powerful influence of Imperial Rome The source of this power lay in the uniformity of the architectural language the inventory of forms the choice of styles and the spatial layout of the buildings Thus while temples have an eclectic character there is an underlying unity of form comprising the podium the stairway between the terminating walls antae and the columns along the entrance front in other words the axuality frontality and symmetry of the temple as viewed from outside The temples and sanctuaries studied in this volume demonstrate individual nuances of plan spatial design location in the sanctuary and interrelations with the immediate vicinity but can be divided into two main categories Vitruvian temples derived from Hellenistic Roman architecture and Non Vitruvian temples those with plans and spatial designs that cannot be analysed according to architectural criteria such as those defined by Vitruvius The individual descriptions presented focus solely upon the analysis of the external and internal space of the temples of all types and do not involve any cultural or ethnic discussion

The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and suspenseful novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
