Vinodh Venkatesh, 2015-12-10 Through economic liberalization and the untethering of labor and production markets masculinity as hegemon has entered a crisis stage Renegotiated labor and familial orders have triggered a widespread cultural renegotiation of how masculinity operates and is represented This holds especially true in Latin America Addressing this Vinodh Venkatesh uses contemporary Latin American literature to examine how masculinity is constructed and conceived The Body as Capital centers socioeconomic and political concerns anxieties and paradigms on the male anatomy and on the matrices of masculinities presented in fiction Developing concepts such as the market of masculinities and the transnational theater of masculinities the author explains how contemporary fiction centers the male body and masculine expressions as key components in the relationship between culture space and global tensile forces Venkatesh includes novels by canonical and newer writers from Mexico Central America the Caribbean Peru and Chile He focuses on texts produced after 1990 coinciding with what has popularly been termed the neoliberal experiment In addition to probing well known novels such as La fiesta del Chivo and La mujer habitada and their accompanying body of criticism The Body as Capital defines and examines several masculine tropes that will be of interest to scholars of contemporary Latin American literature and gender studies Ultimately Venkatesh argues for a more holistic approximation of discursive gender that will feed into other angles of criticism forging a new path in the critical debates over gender and sexuality in Latin American writing
