Translation and Objects Ma Carmen África Vidal Claramonte, 2024-08-06 Translation and Objects offers a new and original perspective in Translation Studies originating from the conviction that in today's world translation is pervasive. Building on the ideas of scholars who have expanded the boundaries of the discipline, this book focuses on the analysis of objects that migrants carry with them on their journey of migration. The ideas of displacement and constant movement are key throughout these pages. Migrants live translation literally because displacement is a leitmotif for them. Translation and Objects analyzes migrant objects such as shoes, stones, or photographs as translation sites that function as expressions as well as sources of emotions. These displaced emotional objects, laden with meanings and sentiments, tell many stories, saying a great deal about their owners who almost never have a voice. This book shows how meaning is displaced through the materiality, texture, smells, sensations, and forms of moving objects. Including examples of translations that have been created from a non-linguistic perspective and exploring linguistic issues whilst connecting them to other fields such as anthropology and sociology, Vidal sets out a broad vision of translation. This is critical reading for translation theory courses within Translation Studies, comparative literature, and cultural studies. With the exception of Chapter 3, no part of this book may be reprinted or reproduced or utilised in any form or by any electronic, mechanical, or other means now known or hereafter invented, including photocopying and recording or in any information storage or retrieval system, without permission in writing from the publishers.

Het getij Hugh Aldersey-Williams, 2016-10-20 De zee komt op en trekt zich terug volgens regels die voor de meesten van ons een mysterie zijn. En dat mysterie is er niet voor niets: laat bekroond wetenschapschrijver Hugh Aldersey-Williams zien. De lange zoektocht van de mens om het getij te doorgronden is een episch verhaal van Aristoteles van wie gezegd wordt dat hij verdronken is in zijn pogingen de Griekse getijden te begrijpen, via baanbrekende onderzoeken van Galilei en Newton naar de rol van de maan tot de pogingen heden ten dage om het getij beter te begrijpen en zelfs te willen controleren. Aldersey-Williams neemt de lezer mee naar de meest memorabele verschijningsvormen van het fenomeen van eb en vloed. Hij bezoekt de Baai van Fundy in Nova Scotia waar het getij het sterkst ter wereld is, arctisch Noorwegen, het thuis van een razende draaikolk bekend als de maelstrom, en Veneti om te onderzoeken hoe deze stad de overstromingen veroorzaakt door het beruchte acqua alta tegenhoudt. Gedurende deze meeslepende ontdekkingsreis graaft Aldersey-Williams naar klassieke literaire verbeeldingen van eb en vloed van Shakespeare tot Dickens, van Homerus tot Jules Verne. Zo vervaecht hij literatuur en folklore met eeuwen van wetenschappelijk denken om de macht en werking uit te leggen van een van de meest intrigerende, mysterieuze en elementaire krachten der natuur: het getij.
