The Glad River:

The Glad River Will D. Campbell,1998     Of Fiction and Faith W. Dale Brown,1997 Of Fiction and Faith features personal interviews with twelve of America's most significant writers interviews which provide a window into the personal and literary lives of writers with special focus on their attitudes towards issues of faith     Will Campbell Merrill M. Hawkins,1997 These endeavors involved an expanded interest beyond civil rights for African Americans in an effort to have a comprehensive approach to all human suffering This broadened awareness included concern for the poor whites of the South as well as other victims including such different groups as prisoners and women as discriminated minorities BOOK JACKET Campbell is also known for his writings both fiction and non fiction BOOK JACKET     God Is Still Speaking Stillspeaking Writers' Group,2024-10-15 A Year of Reflection God is still speaking started as an advertising slogan for the United Church of Christ but more than 20 years later it endures as a faith proclamation God is still speaking in the Bible but also through the arts in the sciences and in the struggles for justice God is still speaking because the world is still evolving God is still speaking and God isn't finished with us yet God is still speaking so we should keep engaging our faith with curiosity wonder and even playfulness If you wonder whether God has anything to say in these tumultuous times if your faith is feeling stuck or finding itself in unknown territory if you think devotional books are sappy or pious or irrelevant God Is Still Speaking will give your spirit a God filled jolt Each devotional begins with scripture ends with prayer and brings bold encouragement to your day God is Still Speaking 365 Daily Devotionals is a collection of wondering provocative and playful reflections for the person who thinks devotional books are too pious Spend 365 days immersed in the affirmation God is still speaking     The King of the Golden River John Ruskin,1898     The Christ-Haunted Landscape Susan Ketchin,2009-11-12 Here are Susan Ketchin's discerning interviews with twelve southerners living and writing in the South and along with a piece of fiction by each are her penetrating commentaries about the impact of southern religious experience on their work A little more than a generation ago Flannery O'Connor made a startling observation about herself and her fellow southerners By and large she said people in the South still conceive of humanity in theological terms While the South is hardly Christ centered it is most certainly Christ haunted The southerner who isn't convinced of it is very much afraid that he may have been formed in the image and likeness of God Guided by O'Connor's perceptive commentary about southerners in general Susan Ketchin has created a deeply revealing collection that mirrors the pervasive role of religion in the literature by the recent generation of notable southern writers Ketchin confirms that old time religion remains a potent force in the literature of the contemporary South     The Glad River Will Campbell,1986-04 No one in Claughton County understood why Doops Momber refused to be baptized his people were all good Baptists And no one in Cummings Mississippi knew that Kingston Smylie's daddy was really his granddaddy and that Kingston wasn't white And at Camp Polk no one knew anything at all about Fordache Arceneau because he spoke only Cajun which is what he was These met in basic training and formed a community of three they called the neighborhood They fought together on Guadalcanal and then went back to the lives they had known before World War II Doops was still adamant about not being baptized claiming there weren't any real Baptists left to do the job Then Fordache was accused of a brutal murder and the neighborhood bound by love and based on understanding faced its ultimate test in a small southern courtroom in 1952 The Humbled Poets Slason Thompson, 1886
