Catalog of Books* ,1996 Anglo-American Relations in the Twentieth Century Ritchie Ovendale,1998-10-30 A critique of Anglo American relations in the twentieth century in the light of the most recent research It challenges many existing interpretations and argues that the basis of the Anglo American special relationship was laid by Roosevelt and Chamberlain that Roosevelt preferred Stalin to Churchill and that the origins of the Cold War should be seen as a British education of the Americans to the Soviet threat Suez is reassessed following the recent release of material in the Eisenhower Library There is a consideration of the relationship of mutual interdependence and why Wilson and Heath chose to move instead towards the European connection as well as Mrs Thatcher s reasons for preferring the Atlantic alliance The United States as a World Power Samuel Flagg Bemis,1955 The Global Power: the United States Since 1941 Richard Stewart Kirkendall,1973 Fifty Years Later Harvard Sitkoff,1985 Revised and expanded papers originally presented at a symposium sponsored by the Dept of History University of New Hampshire and held Mar 17 18 1983 National Interests And Presidential Leadership Donald E. Nuechterlein,2019-04-10 Many scholars have ignored the concept of national interest simply because no logical systematic means of dealing with this key aspect of international politics has been available A new approach to defining national interest forms the basis for this study of presidential decisions on U S involvement in foreign wars Professor Nuechterlein looks at various crisis situations to determine what defense economic world order and ideological interests are at stake he identifies sixteen cost risk and value factors that affect the U S view of which interest is most vital in a given situation In any dispute it is the interest that is considered vital too important to compromise that is the key element in crisis decisions Professor Nuechterlein uses his analytical framework to examine the ways Presidents Wilson Roosevelt Truman Johnson and Nixon perceived the national interest when making their decisions to begin or extend U S war involvement He assesses the value of National Security Council participation in the decision making process and presents case study analyses of three imminent U S foreign policy concerns Quebec s possible separation from Canada the Panama Canal Treaty and the potential for race war in South Africa with an epilogue on the challenges facing Carter The author suggests that the most important U S national interest in the future will be economic with energy conservation a top priority The Japan Year Book Katsuji Inahara,1942 Aero Digest ,1945 The United States News ,1943 Vols 5 include the monthly rotogravure supplement Uncle Sam s news reel issued as section 2 from May 24 1937 to Dec 11 1939 30 54 cm Collier's ,1951-10 The Aeroplane ,1951 Bible Society Record ,1939
