The Gardening Idea:

Garden Thought Ethan Cramer, 2014-02-11 Why do we garden What are the conceptual origins of ornamental horticulture and how does that inform a judgment of what might constitute a good garden How does a garden come to be and how does a gardener relate to those who share the garden with her It is surprising that these are questions that mostly remain unexamined in a world where many people garden passionately Scholars and theoreticians devote their lives to the study of art or literature or architecture but somehow gardening philosophy is nearly nonexistent Garden Thought proposes a structure for understanding horticulture in coherent terms and for practicing seriously and thoughtfully There are terms and conceptual structures and parameters that inform those who garden this is an attempt to articulate them and fit them into a coherent framework

The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and gripping novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
