Ordinary in Brighton?: LGBT, Activisms and the City Kath Browne,Leela

Bakshi,2016-05-13 Ordinary in Brighton offers the first large scale examination of the impact of the UK equalities legislation on lesbian gay bi and trans LGBT lives and the effects of these changes on LGBT political activism Using the participatory research project Count Me In Too this book investigates the material issues of social spatial injustice that were pertinent for some but not all LGBT people and explores activisms working in partnership that operated with within the state Ordinary in Brighton explores the unevenly felt consequences of assimilation and inclusion in a city that was compelled to provide a place literally and figuratively for LGBT people Brighton itself is understood to be exceptional and exploring this specific location provides insights into how place operates as constitutive of lives and activisms Despite its placing as the gay capital and its long history as a favoured location of LGBT people there is very little academic or popular literature published about this city This book offers insights into the first decade of the 21st century when sexual and gender dissidents supposedly became ordinary here rather than exceptional and transgressive It argues that geographical imaginings of this city as the gay capital formed activisms that sought positive social change for LGBT people The possibilities of legislative change and urban inclusivities enabled some LGBT people to live ordinary lives but this potential existed in tension with normalisations and exclusions Alongside the necessary critiques Ordinary in Brighton asks for conceptualisations of the creative and co operative possibilities of ordinariness The book concludes by differentiating the exclusionary ideals of normalisation from the possibilities of ordinariness which has the potential to render a range of people not only in place but commonplace All royalties from this book will be donated to Allsorts Youth Project Brighton Hove LGBT Switchboa

Undoing Place? Linda

Mcdowell,2020-10-07 Does geography affect our sense of self How are social characteristics mapped out on the ground And is there any authentic sense of place now or are we increasingly placeless Concentrating on the period between the end of the Second World War and the end of the century this Reader argues that there is a reciprocal relationship between the constitution of places and people What it means to be a man or a woman to have a nationality and a sense of place has been transformed and reinvented as our view of the world has changed The present is perceived as a time of fear a period in which all that is solid seems to melt into air while the 1950s are a site of nostalgia a period of clarity and certainty a time when people know their place Bringing together an interdisciplinary collection of articles for social and cultural geographers this Reader critically examines the argument that the close associations of the 1950s between place the home the community and the nation state and the social divisions gender class and nationality are breaking down in the 1990s Drawing out the oppositional movements in each decade it seeks to show how the supposed stability of one and the mobility of the other are
