Dimensions of Dignity Dan Egonsson,1998-06-30 Intended for philosophers with a general interest in moral philosophy or ethics and more specifically axiological animal and medical ethics Examines the question of whether there is an inherent value in being human critiques arguments both for and against what the author terms the standard attitude that there is such value Applies these ideas to consideration of the taking of human life in such cases as abortion and euthanasia among others Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Chambers's Encyclopaedia ,1889 Splitting the Difference Martin Benjamin,1990 Politics is often characterized as the art of compromise the implication being that compromise is desirable and that insight imagination discipline and skill are all necessary for a compromise Compromise in ethics however is quite another matter there it is usually regarded as a sign of weakness or lack of integrity From Socrates and Sir Thomas More to Elizabeth Cady Stanton Gandhi and Martin Luther King Jr we honour these men and women not only for the nature of their convictions but also for their unwavering refusal to compromise Seeking Identity Raymond A. Belliotti, 1995

Outlining the unwritten but deeply ingrained system of moral codes that Italian immigrants brought to America Belliotti examines that system in relation to moral theorists who argue we owe the most to people close to us and those who contend we must attach no special weight to our own interests when determining proper moral action He also investigates philosophical historical sociological and political aspects of government authority examines conflicting images of Italian immigrant women and analyzes war and pacifism
