Catalog of Unconfirmed Comets - Volume 1 Gary W. Kronk,Maik Meyer,2023-05-09 This catalog is the first in depth investigation of comets that were reported since the 17th century but not confirmed and subsequently lost Volume I of this two volume work covers objects observed between 1600 and 1899 a period that was dominated by visual observations and was experiencing a rapid evolution in science The book uniquely combines the history and culture of comet hunting and discovery with modern tools of orbital mechanics to present a wholesome catalog of unconfirmed and suspected comets Each case includes a presentation of the observations a discussion about the observer when possible consideration of the historic context and a conclusion as to the nature of the object In most cases the book presents material from original sources including some never before published that were acquired from observatories libraries and historical societies around the world Although some of these unconfirmed comets turned out to be misidentifications of planets or star clusters fabrications or poor observations of comets that were already being observed the Authors did identify many objects that were likely real comets In some cases the Authors were even able to derive orbits for the first time These observations may be valuable in the future as they could prove to be observations of periodic comets still to be discovered

Catalog of Unconfirmed Comets - Volume 2 Gary W. Kronk,Maik Meyer,2024-05-30 This two volume catalog is the first in depth investigation of comets that were reported since the 17th century but not confirmed and subsequently lost Volume 2 covers objects observed between 1900 and the present a period that was dominated by photographic observations and the detection of much fainter objects This book provides a distinctive blend of the historical and cultural aspects of comet hunting and discovery along with the utilization of contemporary tools in orbital mechanics and data analysis This comprehensive compilation offers a thorough catalog of unconfirmed comets Each case encompasses a detailed presentation of observations a discussion on the observer when feasible an examination of the historical context and a conclusive analysis of the object s nature The book predominantly showcases original material and photographs sourced from observatories libraries and historical societies worldwide exposing a significant number of illustrations that have never been previously published While some of these unconfirmed comets were determined to be misidentifications of minor planets artifacts caused by emulsion or optical effects or inaccurate observations of comets that were already under observation the Authors did manage to identify numerous objects that were likely genuine comets These observations hold potential value for the future as they could be observations of periodic comets yet to be formally identified In a handful of instances the Authors were also able to find new observations which led to the calculation of orbits for the first time enabling a formal announcement or identifying suspected comets that were already known to be periodic comets It's Part of What We Are - Volumes 1 and 2 - Volume 1: Richard Boyle (1566-1643) to John Tyndall (1820-1893); Volume 2: Samuel Haughton (18210-1897) to John Stewart Bell (1928-1990) Charles Mollan,2007-11-15 Biographies of more than 100 Irish scientists or those with strong Irish connections in the disciplines of Chemistry and Physics including Astronomy Mathematics etc describing them in their Irish and international scientific social educational and political context Written in an attractive informal style for the hypothetical educated layman who does not need to have studied science Well received in Irish and international reviews 3D Printed Science Projects Volume 1 Joan Horvath, Rich Cameron, 2024-09-26 Create 3D printable models that can help students from kindergarten through grad school learn math physics botany chemistry engineering and more This book shows parents and teachers how to use the models inside as starting points for 3D printable explorations Students can start with these models and vary them for their own explorations Unlike other sets of models that can just be scaled these models have the science built in to allow for more insight into the fundamental concepts Each of the eight topics is designed to be customized by you to create a wide range of projects suitable for science fairs extra credit or classroom demonstrations Science fair project suggestions and extensive where to learn more resources are included too You will add another dimension to your textbook understanding of science For this New Edition The second edition of 3D Printed Science Projects is a thorough update of the original modernizing the 3D printing technology 3D Printed Science Projects shows you how to create 3D printable models that can help students from kindergarten through grad school learn math physics botany chemistry engineering and more Each of the models is created in the free open source CAD program OpenSCAD so it can be customized by the reader This allows the models to be the basis of open ended STEM projects at a variety of levels What You'll Learn Create and present the science behind 3D printed models Use a 3D printer to create those models as simply as possible Discover new science insights from designing 3D models Who This Book Is For 3D Printed Science Projects particularly targets the technology squeamish teacher or parent who want their kids to learn something from their 3D printer but need help getting started Kids who love science homeschoolers and the grandmas who buy them birthday presents will be customers The Nation, 1896 Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports, 1987

The West in the World relates the story of how the west has transformed and been transformed by the rest of the world. The authors examine the West's contributions to the world and how the west has changed and embraced new ideas through contact with the people outside its center. Using a political cultural framework the text weaves a strong thread of social history into the narrative by showing how civilizations grow and are shaped through the decisions and actions of real people. The authors bring history to life by using art and maps as a central feature of learning. They build discussions of art into the narrative to help students interpret artwork and provide analytical map guides that reveal the connections between geography, politics and other developments. This strong rich narrative is short enough to allow instructors the flexibility of introducing other sources and books as supplement while giving students a solid understanding of Western Civilization without overwhelming them.
