Disrupted Narratives

Emma Bond,2017-07-05 If Madame Bovary's death in Flaubert's 1857 novel marked the definitive end of the Romantic vision of literary disease then the advent of psychoanalysis less than half a century later heralded an entirely new set of implications for literature dealing with illness The theorization of a potential unconscious double capable of expressing the body and thus also the intimate damage caused by disease in turn suggested a capacity to subvert or destabilize the text exposing the main thread of the narrative to be unreliable or self conscious Indeed the authors examined in this study Italo Svevo 1861 1928 Giorgio Pressburger 1937 and Giuliana Morandini 1938 all make use of individual infected or suppressed voices within their texts which unfold through illness to cast doubt on a more conventionally dominant narrative standpoint Applying the theories of Freud and more recent writings by Julia Kristeva Bond offers a new critical reading of the literary function of illness a function related to the very nature of narration itself

Italo Calvino and the Landscape of Childhood

Claudia Nocentini,2000 Although never named as such the landscape of Sanremo was a visual source for Calvino's fiction This recurring theme provides both a link between some very different works and an insight into the autobiographical dimension of an author whose attitude to privacy is protective but detached This work is an analysis of the criteria of representative and of representational distortion of a descriptive motif

thanks to both his narrative production and his activity as editor and militant intellectual The aim of this book is to present the English speaking reader with a comprehensive study of the author his times and his work Particular attention has been paid to the interconnection between Vittorini s work as a fiction writer and his political commitment which saw him move from revolutionary fascism to communism to independent left wing militancy The combination of extensive archival research with a re appraisal of his fiction and of his editorial activity provides a full picture reaching beyond the traditional restricted view of Vittorini as the anti fascist author of Conversazione in Sicilia Guido Bonsaver is Lecturer in Italian at Royal Holloway University of London Among his studies on twentieth century Italian writers he has published Il mondo scritto di Italo Calvino Turin 1995    Origin and Identity Elizabeth Schächter,2000 Italo Svevo although neglected until the last few years of his life is now acknowledged as a writer of international stature alongside his contemporaries Kafka Proust and Joyce These essays focus on his three novels Una Vita Senilita and La coscienza di Zeno Drawing on new biographical and critical research key issues are explored such as Svevo s Jewishness his debt to psychoanalysis sexuality and love structure and irony and time and narration The opening chapter is devoted to Trieste which features so prominently in his oeuvre This book will provide both the general reader and the student with a valuable re evaluation of a unique writer of genius Elizabeth Schachter has taught at the University College of North Wales and is at present a Lecturer in Italian at the University of Kent She has published not only on Italo Svevo but also on Eugenio Montale and Giovanni Verga For several years she was the editor of Pirandello Studies    Comedy and Culture Fabian Alfie,2001 This work examines the ways in which the culture and society of the Middle Ages impacted on the works of the Sienese poet Cecco Angiolieri c 1260 1312 It analyzes how Angiolieri s poetry conformed to medieval notions and practices of comicality The study explores the means by which Cecco satirized important cultural movements of the late 13th and early 14th centuries such as love literature and the ascendant Franciscan order In addition it looks at his relations with other writers of the day including three insulting sonnets addressed to Dante Alighieri The text shows that Angiolieri was not an isolated bizarre figure as some early 20th century scholars have described him but rather an author in step with his times    Pastoral Drama in Early Modern Italy Lisa Sampson,2006 An investigation of critical writings associated with the genre further reveals its significance to the contemporary literary scene Sampson argues that pastoral drama stimulated not only modernizing attitudes towards the canon but also new enquiries into the function and possibilities of art BOOK JACKET    Contesting the Monument Ruth Glynn,2005 In the second half of the twentieth century the Italian historical novel provided an unrivalled number of best sellers and publishing phenomena The success of the genre is closely related to a more general interest in revisiting the past in the light of a changed understanding of the nature or philosophy of history This study aims to explore the particularly marked increase in the production and popularity of the historical novel in the period between the mid 1960s and the early 1990s with reference to current debates on the nature of history It presents a theoretical framework which establishes the centrality of philosophy of history to the development of the genre The employment of this framework opens out the discussion of literary change to the consideration of historiographical developments and wider critical debate The theoretical insights gained inform the close textual analysis provided in the chapters dealing with novels written by five of Italy's foremost contemporary writers

Honess,2006 Dante's political thought has long constituted a major area of interest for Dante studies yet the poet's political views have traditionally been considered in isolation from his other concerns Consequently the symbolic and poetic values which Dante attaches to political structures have been largely ignored or marginalized by Dante criticism Addressing this omission Claire Honess's study of Dante's poetry of citizenship focuses on such issues as the relationship between the individual and the community the question of what it means to be a citizen and above all the ways in which notions of cities and citizenship enter the imagery and structure of the Commedia
