Laughing at Architecture Michela Rosso,2018-11-29 In a media saturated world humour stands out as a form of social communication that is especially effective in re appropriating and questioning architectural and urban culture Whether illuminating the ambivalences of metropolitan life or exposing the shock of modernisation cartoons caricature and parody have long been potent agents of architectural criticism protest and opposition In a novel contribution to the field of architectural history this book outlines a survey of visual and textual humour as applied to architecture its artefacts and leading professionals Employing a wide variety of visual and literary sources prints the illustrated press advertisements theatrical representations cinema and TV thirteen essays explore an array of historical subjects concerning the critical reception of projects buildings and cities through the means of caricature and parody Subjects range from 1750 to the present and from Europe and the USA to contemporary China From William Hogarth and George Cruikshank to Osbert Lancaster Adolf Loos satire and Saul Steinberg s celebrated cartoons of New York City graphic and descriptive humour is shown to be an enormously fruitful yet largely unexplored terrain of investigation for the architectural and urban historian

Chloroformist Christine Ball,2021-08-03 Operating with bare hands dressed in his street clothes he had taken those first steps that every training surgeon must take gripping the handle of a scalpel and making the first irrevocable cut into live human flesh For the surgeon training in the early 1840s these first surgical milestones were performed on a person who would recoil in terror and horror flinch pull away shake and scream and scream and scream Until 1846 surgery was performed without anaesthesia extraordinary operations carried out on conscious terrified patients Surgeons of that era were bold and courageous and saved many lives but anaesthesia changed everything With an unconscious patient the surgeon could take his time Surgery became slower more careful and more delicate And as anaesthesia removed the pain of surgery the medical world gave more attention to surgical infection heralding in the use of antiseptics and eventually aseptic surgery By 1881 the operating theatre was unrecognisable Much has been written about surgery in the nineteenth century but little has been said about the development of the relationship between surgeon and anaesthetist For anaesthesia to mature and allow further advances in surgery a professional relationship had to develop between surgeons and anaesthetists Joseph Clover arguably did more than any other anaesthetist to develop that relationship In The Chloroformist Christine Ball tells the captivating story of an innovative hard working and deeply humane pioneer of modern patient care

Pursuit of Pleasure Jane Rendell,2010-07-15 The Pursuit of Pleasure presents the figures of the rambler and the cyprian the Eighteenth Century precursors to the Parisian flGneur and prostitute The urban spaces traced by these figures were the clubs sporting venues operas assembly rooms streets and arcades of central London Drawing on critical theory geography and philosophy

The Pursuit of Pleasure extends and critiques the discipline of architectural history from a feminist perspective The gendering of public space is considered to be a complex and shifting series of moves and looks between men and women constructed and represented through spatial and social relations of consumption display and exchange Illustrated with contemporary prints and drawings The Pursuit of Pleasure is an extraordinarily rich analysis of the gendered issues of public space at the birth of the modern metropolis    London's West End Rohan McWilliam,2020 The first history of the West End of London showing how the nineteenth century growth of theatres opera houses galleries restaurants department stores casinos exhibition centres night clubs street life and the sex industry shaped modern culture and consumer society and made London a world centre of entertainment and glamour    Architecture of the Nineteenth Century in Europe Claude Mignot,1984
