The Lawless Border:

The Lawless Border Allan Vaughan Elston, 1968      Borderland Films Dominique Brégent-Heald, 2015-11 The concept of North American borderlands in the cultural imagination fluctuated greatly during the Progressive Era as it was affected by similarly changing concepts of identity and geopolitical issues influenced by the Mexican Revolution and the First World War. Such shifts became especially evident in films set along the Mexican and Canadian borders as filmmakers explored how these changes simultaneously represented and influenced views of society at large. Borderland Films examines the intersection of North American borderlands and culture as portrayed through early twentieth century cinema. Drawing on hundreds of films, Dominique Brégent-Heald investigates the significance of national borders, the ever-changing concepts of race, gender, and enforced boundaries, the racialized ideas of criminality that painted the borderlands as unsafe and in need of control, and the wars that showed how international conflict significantly influenced the United States' relations with its immediate neighbors. Borderland Films provides a fresh perspective on American cinematic cultural and political history and on how cinema contributed to the establishment of societal narratives in the early twentieth century.

Wilson's Tales of the Borders, and of Scotland John Mackay Wilson, 1888      Border Raids and Reivers Robert Borland, 1898      The Border Papers Great Britain. General Register Office (Scotland), 1896      Deserving and Entitled Anne L. Schneider, Helen M. Ingram, 2012-02-01 Public policy in the United States is marked by a contradiction between the American ideal of equality and the reality of an underclass of marginalized and disadvantaged people who are widely viewed as undeserving and incapable. Deserving and Entitled provides a close inspection of many different policy arenas showing how the use of power and the manipulation of images have made it appear both natural and appropriate that some target populations benefit from policy while others do not. These social constructions of deservedness and entitlement, unless challenged, become amplified over time and institutionalized into permanent lines of social, economic, and political cleavage. The contributors here express concern that too often public policy sends messages harmful to democracy and contributes significantly to the pattern of uneven political participation in the United States.

Wilson's Tales of the Borders, and of Scotland. Revised by A. Leighton. New ed. John Mackay Wilson, 1888      Dante Gabriel Rossetti William Sharp, 1882      The Making of the Ohio Valley States, 1660-1837 Samuel Adams Drake, 1894      *Scott's Lady of the lake.
