

A close-up photograph of a hand holding a white rectangular sign. The hand is positioned on the left side of the frame, with fingers gripping the top and bottom edges of the sign. The background is a blurred, warm-toned image of a person's face, suggesting a professional or educational setting. The text on the sign is in a bold, black, sans-serif font, arranged in three lines.

Fundamental Rights in EU Internal Market Legislation Vasiliki Kosta, 2015-11-05 This book attempts to systematise the present interrelationship between fundamental rights and the EU internal market in the field of positive integration Its intention is simple to examine the way in which and the extent to which fundamental rights protection is realised through EU internal market legislation To that end the analysis is conducted around four rights or sets of rights data protection freedom of expression fundamental labour rights and the right to health The book assesses not only what substantive level of protection is achieved for these fundamental rights but it also estimates whether there is a fundamental rights culture that informs current legislative practice Finally it asks the overarching question whether the current state of harmonisation amounts to a fundamental rights policy The book offers a much more varied picture of the EU s fundamental rights policy in and through the EU internal market than perhaps initially expected Moreover it builds the case for a more conscious approach to dealing with and enhancing fundamental rights protection in and through internal market legislation and advocates a leading role for the legislature in the establishment of an internal market that is firmly based on respect for fundamental rights Private Property Rights Protection United States.
